WAGE LOSS REACHING BIG SUM WEEKLY

National Coal Association Head Shows Wide Effect of Closed Mines

MANY UNION RAILROAD MEN ARE OUT OF WORK

Thousands of Women Lose Wages As Business Is Greatly Hampered

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—More than 1,000,000 workers are now completely idle or employed but part time as a result of the coal shortage, it was estimated unofficially here today.

The estimate was described as "extremely conservative" by J. D. A. Morrow, vice president of the National Coal Association. Exact figures are impossible to obtain since formal reports are not received from all sections of the country. But railroad administration reports show that in some sections whole communities are having enforced vacations.

The wage loss is estimated at more than $2,000,000 daily. Loss to employers and business men is beyond all estimates. Thousands of those affected are women who depend for employment on mercantile establishments.

Railroad union workers constitute another class affected by the strike, according to heads of the four big railroad brotherhoods. Trainmen began to feel the strike through curtailment of train service, a week after it began, according to President W. C. Lee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

The central coal committee of the railroad administration here sits continuously solving problems of priority and distribution. Reports of the geological survey show that coal production is nearing fifty per cent normal through efforts of non-union workers.

Last Reserves of Fuel In Chicago Being Doled Out

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Bituminous coal burning furnaces were virtually banked today while the last reserves of fuel were doled out to those industries essential to the life of the people.

When the order cutting passenger train schedules between Chicago and the Pacific coast goes into effect Monday at 12:01 a. m., approximately 15,000 trains monthly will be eliminated. This will amount to approximately 6,000,000 passenger train miles in thirty days.

Packing houses here, operating on a curtailed schedule, will not be allowed additional coal, the regional committee ordered.

The coal supply at the army hospital, at Fort Sheridan, was reported about exhausted.

Various plans for increasing coal production were placed into effect in several states today.

Governor Gardner J. B. A. Robertson of Oklahoma, planned to dig coal in mines near McAlester today with 400 other volunteer miners.

Governor Gardner of Missouri, today planned to start volunteers digging coal in the strip mines of Barton county.

Train Curtailment May Be Cal. Blessing In Disguise

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 5.—Declaring that California will be the heaviest sufferer when railway service from Chicago to the Pacific coast is reduced December 8th, Los Angeles commercial leaders and others closely affected were inclined to take the situation philosophically today.

Some criticized the railway administration severely, saying that most trains operated to the coast burn oil and their elimination would in no way save coal.

President C. E. Miller of the Los Angeles Realty Board pointed out

ELECTRIC SHOCK KILLS SANTA ANA

Pezet Returning to U. S. as Peru's Real Ambassador

Dr. Du Bois Injured by Shock in Garage

Dr. J. I. Clark

Dr. Du Bois lost his life and another narrowly escaped death from electric shock today evening in the garage of William W. Stewart, 1141 West Highland avenue.

Dr. Du Bois received a slight shock when he attempted to release Clark. The presence of Dr. Du Bois probably saved the life of Dr. J. I. Clark.

Stewart had been exposed to the electric wires in his workshop and his clothes were wet and soaked with water. The shocks from a drop cord light in the garage at the Stewart home. Stewart is 29 years of age and is survived by his wife and baby and his mother. Defective wiring is held responsible. Coroner C. D. Brown held an investigation this morning. Stewart returned home from work five minutes before 5 o'clock. He carried his baby with him to the garage to change his clothes. He told his wife he was going to the garage to do some work and to call on when supper was ready.

Calling him two or three times and getting no response, the mother went to the garage. She screamed when she saw the body of her son on the floor between the work bench and machine, and Mrs. Stewart rushed to his assistance. The body had been clear of the wire. The woman and neighbors picked up the body and carried it into the house, physicians then being summoned.

Drs. Clark and DuBois arrived at about the same time, and after viewing the body and attempting resuscitation, went to the garage to investigate the cause. Dr. Clark took hold of the wire and immediately was convulsed, one of his feet striking Mrs. Stewart and giving her a shock. Dr. DuBois attempted to release the physician and was shocked. He ran to the porch of the house and threw off the switch, and got a second shock when he took hold of Dr. Clark, after the connection was supposed to have been severed.

Dr. Clark was unconscious for several minutes and Dr. DuBois had to work over him to revive him.

City Electrician McCulloch this morning made an investigation of the wiring and found that an extension had been run from the porch to the garage by Stewart himself. The wiring was defective, the socket being incorrect and having been burned out a little by reason of conditions obtaining in it.

The bulb was attached to a long cord so that it could be used in any part of the garage. There was no indication of the insulation being broken or defective on the cord, and the imperfect insulation at the socket is believed to have been responsible for the current being conveyed to the men. The floor of the garage is dirt and the damp weather added to the hazard.

The left hand of Stewart was burned and Dr. Clark today is carrying his left hand bandaged as the result of his experience. The line carried 110 volts, which is sufficient to cause death under certain conditions.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the chapel of Smith & Tutthill.

RAIN BRINGING U. S. WON'T MAKE BIG WEALTH TO COUNTY OIL CASE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The government has decided not to appeal to the supreme court in an effort to take from the Southern Pacific railroad 150,000 acres of oil and mineral lands in California, Assistant Attorney General Nebeker, in charge of the public lands division of the department of justice said today.

The decision of the government came as a surprise in view of the fact that the government won a similar suit in the supreme court a few weeks ago, taking from the Southern Pacific 6,000 acres of oil lands in the Elks hills which it was alleged they obtained through fraud. Nebeker explained this by saying that the government has documentary evidence of fraud in the Elks hills case.

In the other suit, which represented six combined cases, Nebeker said the government was convinced this public land was not obtained through fraud, pointing out that the road at first offered it for sale as agricultural property.

At the Irvine ranch house the total precipitation during the 24 hours ending this morning was .59 inch. During the 24 hours ending yesterday morning .64 inch fell, making a total of 1.23 inches for the storm.

LAST TWO OF L. A. BANDIT GANG ARE CAUGHT

Nearly Every Dollar Stolen From Hellman Bank Is Found By Poses

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 5.—All of the bandits wanted for the robbery of the Hellman bank in Los Angeles are now in custody and practically all of the loot has been recovered.

Arthur Brown was captured by a posse headed by Sheriff Shay of San Bernardino county and Deputy Sheriff Manning of Los Angeles county in Lucerne valley 25 miles northwest of Victorville this morning.

The sheriff's posse had trailed him since 1:30 a. m. today and finally surrounded him. He then surrendered without a fight. He told the officers, however, that they would never take his brother Herbert alive.

At 11:30 this morning "Shorty" Sewell and Frank Williams, two Indian trailers, swept through the brush at the head of Silver Creek canyon and covered Herbert Brown before he knew anyone was near him. He also surrendered without a fight and was brought in to Victorville at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Sheriff Shay and Deputy Sheriff Manning had started for San Bernardino with the Brown brothers and the wife of Arthur Brown and her three children and are expected in San Bernardino about 3 p. m. today.

A check-up of the loot shows that practically everything taken from the bank has been recovered. When searched at Victorville, $10,000 was found in the possession of Mrs. Brown, the money having been sewed in the lining of her cloak. A suitcase contained $7,000 additional. Two thousand, one hundred and seventy-five dollars was found on Arthur Brown when he surrendered. This money, with $8,000 found in the possession of Ed Hudson, the third member of the trio, when he was arrested in Los Angeles, makes up practically the total amount taken from the bank.

NOTE FROM CABRANZA BELIEVED ON WAY

Notice of Consular Agent's Freedom Is Sent By U. S. Embassy Secretary

SITUATION DISCUSSED AT CABINET MEETING

Conference of Senators Almost Broken Up By News of Action

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—William O. Jenkins, American consular agent at Puebla, Mexico, has been released from the penitentiary, the state department announced today. Notification of his release was sent to the department by the American embassy at Mexico City.

Release of Jenkins, officials believe, foreshadows a reply from Carranza agreeing to the last American note which reiterated the demand for the consular agent's release and it is expected to ease the strained relations between the two countries.

In announcing Jenkins' release, the state department said:

"The release of William O. Jenkins, the American consular agent at Puebla, was reported late this afternoon from the American embassy at Mexico City. The secretary of state announced that a dispatch from the embassy stated that Third Secretary Hanna of the embassy, who was sent to Puebla in connection with the department's repeated representations for the immediate release of Jenkins, had reported that Jenkins was released from the penitentiary last night.

Jenkins was abducted October 19th, and the American embassy was immediately instructed to take all possible measures to effect his release from the bandits who had robbed and kidnapped him. Jenkins was released on ransom, returning to Puebla, October 26, was taken to a hospital on that date and was arrested on November 1st, by the Mexican authorities and taken into custody."

Announcement of Jenkins' release came while President Wilson and Senator Fall and Senator Hitchcock were in the midst of a conference on the Mexican question. White House officials said that when the news was conveyed to President Wilson, room it nearly broke up the meeting.

President Wilson will indicate his attitude to the Fall resolution regarding severance of relations with Mexico and on the Mexican situation in general after he has considered memoranda which Senator Fall submitted to him today.

The cabinet discussed the Mexican situation at its meeting this morning, but it was not revealed what trend the discussion took.

El Paso Legion Members to Organize New Home Guard

By S. I. FREED
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

EL PASO, Texas, Dec. 5.—Formation of a home guard of American Legion men to protect El Paso in case of intervention by the United States in Mexico is the object of a meeting of former service men called here for tonight.

The call for this meeting and recall of American Legion men in Mexico followed Washington advice that a decision on the Mexican situation would be made soon.

While American Legion men were ordered to get out of Mexico in the case of one important order, other companies ordered their men to prepare to leave quickly in case of emergency, the Mexican exodus from the United States has already started. Entire families of Mexicans are arriving here in increasing numbers and crossing the international bridge to Juarez. The passport office here is swamped.

Americans on the Mexican side, however, are not flocking back to El Paso yet. The gambling tables in Juarez are crowded daily and far into the night by American players. American business men continue their usual visits to Juarez.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 5.—Evidence tending to show coal mine operators and miners conspired to violate the Lever act by limiting production of coal last summer, before the miners' strike was called, will be presented to the federal grand jury which meets here Monday, it was learned today.

The grand jury was summoned by Judge A. B. Anderson to consider evidence gathered by government investigators in connection with the miners' strike.

Alleged violation of the anti-trust law by mine operators will also be probed by the grand jury.

On Tuesday, the day following opening of the investigation by the jurors, officials of the United Mine Workers of America will appear before Judge Anderson to answer charges of criminal contempt of court.

USE OF TRUCKS ON HIGHWAYS GROWING

In the current issue of California Taxpayers' Journal, R. M. Norton, Sacramento county highway engineer, discusses at length the situation with reference to the abuse of modern highways due to the overloading of trucks. The report shows that the use of trucks is advancing very rapidly. In 1917, 128,157 motor trucks were built. In 1918, 227,250 trucks were sold and the production for the present year is estimated at 327,930. The trucks built this year will have a total tonnage capacity of 550,000 tons. Two hundred and seventy-one thousand, or 83 per cent., will be of the two-ton size and less, and their capacity will be about 59½ per cent of the total truck capacity to be built. Trucks from two to four tons capacity will constitute 11 per cent of the number, and 21 per cent of the total capacity. Trucks of five tons will constitute 5 per cent of the number built, and 16 per cent of the total capacity. Trucks to carry more than five tons will constitute 1 per cent of the number built, and include only 3 per cent of the total capacity.

DIAMOND MINES OF ARKANSAS PRODUCING

Diamonds were first discovered in Arkansas in 1906. The "chimeys" in which they were found were like those of South Africa, and were filled with peridotite which is closely akin to the South African kimberlite. The first year 140 diamonds were taken out ranging from 1-64 to 6 carats. The mines had turned out about 5000 diamonds up to 1918. One of the stones found in 1918 and mentioned in the annual report of the United States geological survey was a canary colored octahedron weighing 17.85 carats. This is the third largest diamond ever found in the United States, one of 23 3-4 carats having been found in Virginia in 1855 and another of 21 3-4 carats in Wisconsin in 1886. Another diamond of 11 carats was found in the Arkansas mines in 1918.

PLYMOUTH ROCK MOST FAMOUS IN AMERICA

Interesting History of Landing Place of Pilgrims Is Given

Plymouth Rock is the most famous rock in the new world. Historians eager to make a sensation have claimed that there is no reliable evidence that the Pilgrims, either on their voyage of exploration or after the coming of the Mayflower from Provincetown, stepped upon the rock from their boats, thus touching here for the first time upon the site where their settlement was to grow.

Yet the evidence for the authenticity of the tradition is strong enough to warrant our believing it. When the women and children came, it is not known where they first touched the ground. But first the Pilgrim explorers landed from Clark's island, there is not much doubt that they stepped upon the historic rock. No actual contemporary record of this was set down in black and white, but in their later years some of the explorers described to Elder Faunce the exact particulars of that landing as they remembered them. And when an old man himself, sat by the rock and repeated this story, identifying the rock as the first Plymouth ground trodden by their feet.

There is other confirmatory evidence so that it seems altogether probable that the tradition is true. It cannot, indeed, be absolutely proved. But it is sufficiently satisfactory to all except those few who prefer to doubt everything.

Just before the revolution Plymouth was growing so rapidly about the waterfront that it seemed probable that before many years the rock would be covered by a wharf. This roused the patriotic sentiment of the town's people and it was decided to remove the great boulder to a place where commerce could not desecrate it. But in trying to raise it, the rock was split and the upper portion, being more highly regarded, was solemnly taken to the town square, where it helped to rouse fervor in the gatherings of loyal Americans who were beginning to fret over the obnoxious laws imposed by England. Here it remained for sixty years and then, on the Fourth of July, it was again moved, this time to a prominent place in front of Plymouth Hall.

Here it stayed for forty-six years longer and it was then taken back to its rightful position, securely fastened to the lower portion, which had never been removed, and later covered with a granite canopy.

Felicia Hemans, in her English home, knew about Plymouth Rock when she wrote her famous poem. She took it for granted that the rock had many neighbors when she wrote the familiar line, "On a stern and rockbound coast." It is always hazardous to write about scenes that one has never viewed and Mrs. Hemans drew a good deal upon her imagination when she pictured Plymouth as "rock-bound." The Pilgrims would have had to row a long distance to have found another rock upon which "the breaking waves dashed high."

It is sometimes believed that the Pilgrims named their town in honor of the English city where they last saw their native land. As a matter of fact they did not name the place. Capt. John Smith had already done that, and the Pilgrims, finding the name Plymouth on his map, retained it.—Boston Post.

CZARSKIE FIGHT ASKING AID FOR IS ENTERED BY RESERVATION GERMANS INDIANS

Fifteen on the Other Side of Better Wells, Better Pumps Sea Put In Claims to and Better Houses Are Share of Estate Being Sought

To give fifteen persons in Germany, new claimants to a share of the $25,000 Czarische estate, an opportunity to establish proof of their relationship, Judge West in Department 1, superior court, today granted a motion to continue for three months the hearing on a petition for the distribution of the property.

The fifteen new claimants put in an appearance in writing late yesterday afternoon, through documents placed on file in superior court. Accompanying these documents was an affidavit, signed by the Swiss consul at San Francisco, to the effect that on account of diplomatic relations not having been re-established between the United States and Germany, it would be impossible at this time for the claimants in Germany to submit proofs of their heirship.

The motion to continue the case was made by Attorney Stanley M. Reinhaus, of the firm of Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus, of this city, who represent Gutch and Lempe, of San Francisco, attorneys for the Swiss consul.

Upon submission of the affidavit by the Swiss consul and after considering evidence submitted it was held by the court to be very possible the new claimants in Germany were legitimately entitled to an opportunity to present their case and the proceedings were continued for three months. The court took cognizance of the fact that the new claimants to the estate could not present their claims until after the resumption of diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany.

The only known heirs in this country to the estate of H. A. and Dinah Czarische, both of whom died several years ago, leaving valuable real estate on the East side of Sycamore street, between Fourth and Fifth, are Fred Czarische, of Redondo Beach, and May Crawford, of Los Angeles, children of a deceased brother of H. A. Czarische.

During the proceedings today testimony was given by Mrs. Fred Czarische to the effect that she had never heard her husband say where he was born, but that she understood he was a native of Germany. She also testified that she had heard both her husband and H. A. Czarische say that there were no other relatives other than themselves.

HUNDRED CADETS TO LEARN TO FLY

Riverside Enterprise—An order received at March field yesterday directs that 100 cadets report to the Riverside field for instruction in flying. The men will be selected from other branches of the United States army. It is understood no men being taken from civil life.

This will further add to the growing personnel of March field and will put flight training operations in full swing once more.

It is reported that brewing trouble in Mexico is the cause of some of the activity at the field. The Riverside school is less than two hours flight from the Mexican border, and is in a position for possible use as a patrol base. Part of the Ninth Aero squadron, formerly of Rockwell field, San Diego, commanded by Col. H. W. Watson, is stationed at March field. The Ninth squadron was engaged in border patrol work on the southern field.

Twenty-five mechanics were transferred from the local field to San Antonio, Texas, yesterday.

OIL DEVELOPMENT IN NOV. IS RAPID

Development working throughout the oil fields of Southern California closed strong with the ending of November. Activity is general in all the fields of the Southland. One hundred and twenty wells are drilling. A year ago the field showed 108 wells drilling. The number of producers now number 856 wells, a year ago 770 wells were producing, making 86 wells completed since November, 1918. The daily output a year ago was approximately 75,000 barrels, today the southern field is making $2,000. Three thousand men are now being employed in the development of the oil resources of Southern California, and the monthly payroll covering this great army of oil workers runs close to $250,000 a month.

Your Health

Riverside Press: A more adequate supply of water better facilities for farming their land improved housing conditions and assistance in care for their aged and sick are the demands that will be sent to department of the interior as a result of a conference of Southern California Indians held in this city today at the home of Jonathan Tibbets head of the Southern California Pioneer Society.

Julio Norie a highly educated Indian of Banning is the president of the society formed by the Indians for the purpose of bettering their conditions. He presided over the meeting here today and representatives are here from eight reservations Soboba, Pauba, Morongo, Santa Rosa, Martinez, Palm Springs, La Mesa and Paula. The delegates representing their reservations are the better class of Redmen of Riverside county.

Mr. Tibbets has taken the responsibility of starting the movement. He has the endorsement of the Woman's Club of this city Mrs. C. C. Arnold, state chairman of the committee on Indian Welfare, being prominent in the conference.

The important thing to be asked for is deeper wells and pumps to pump them. It is claimed that in some sections, especially in the Coachella valley, deep wells put down by modern ranchers have lowered the water level and the shallow wells drilled by the government, which originally were flowing are now useless, so far as agriculture is concerned. Under present conditions the Indian, who is naturally an agriculturist is unable to produce enough from the soil to sustain him and the members of his family.

Citizenship and allotment of land on the five-acre basis, is opposed. The Indians also oppose concentration, setting forth the claim that they are established in their own homes and on their own land and want to be left alone. All they are asking, they claim, is aid so as to be able to farm their lands and this they claim they are not getting. Every Indian in the conference here today is opposed to citizenship.

The younger Indian boys and girls, after being educated in the Indian schools, are in favor of citizenship. They are opposed to returning to their reservation homes under present conditions. Their homes in most cases, are homes in name only. Shacks would be a better name, judging from pictures taken in various reservations to show the housing conditions of the Indian. There is nothing to work with, the younger as well as the older Indians claim, and it is this injustice that will be carried up to the department of the interior and to Cato Sells, head of the Indian department.

Mrs. C. C. Arnold, state chairman of the committee on Indian Welfare, of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, today stated that if the society, as organized by the Indians did not at once present their case to the government, she would insist on the women of California doing so. Mrs. Arnold plainly stated that the government was not acting fairly with the Redmen and their families. She looks upon the proposed allotment of land as an injustice that will work an additional hardship on the Indians where improved land is taken from him without reimbursement. She says it will be the aim of the Women's Club to have the government and state to take care of the aged and infirmed Indian.

Local authorities have a work here at home with the Indians, as have the churches, without going into the interior of Africa to look for it," Mrs. Arnold said.

The day was spent in taking testimony. When this is completed it will be put in official form and presented to the department of interior. Either the Indian society or which Julio Norie is the head or the Women's Club will carry the matter up to Washington.

RIVERSIDE NAVELS GOING TO MARKET

Riverside Press—Five cars of navel oranges have been shipped from Hemet by the Orange Growers association, and the sixth is being loaded there today. This gives the back country growers the jump on the growers in the Riverside district.

The first car to leave Riverside was shipped on November 24 and Pattee & Lett had the distinction of sending the first car of navels of the present crop. Three others have been shipped, and the fifth will go out on Monday. The fruit was reported to be of the highest quality.

Pattee & Lett may continue to run through the entire season, according to the condition of the fruit.

E. C. Merryfield, at Highgrove, has shipped two cars of navels and the third will go out today. Mr. Merryfield's first car left Highgrove on November 28.

F. H. Speich & Co. today will start their first car, and it will be followed by a car daily for the next seven days. Mr. Speich stated that he expected to pick for the next ten days for the holidays.

The Highgrove Fruit exchange is picking and the first car will go from its packing house on Monday.

THE SUGAR HABIT

Most of the other nations would be puzzled by what Americans have called a "sugar famine." Most of them would not find anything very critical in the recent shortage in this country. Italy, which uses habitually only one-tenth as much sugar per capita as the United States, would regard our supply as luxurious excess. So would France.

Our sugar consumption is not only lavish compared with the rest of the present-day world, but also compared with our own past record. Even in years of war scarcity we have used over 80 pounds of sugar per capita. In 1880 we used less than 40 pounds. In pioneer days there was very little sugar. For thousands of years civilized man got along very well without it, consuming no sugar except what he naturally obtained from sweet fruits and vegetables and other food-stuffs.

Most people nowadays seem to imagine that sugar is an imperative necessary food. It is so only because they have formed the sugar habit. Sugar is an excellent food, when not abused, and there is no good reason, generally speaking, why people should not have all they want. But they could get along without it, if they had to, just as their ancestors did for countless generations.

DANGER IN QUITTING

A Chicago newspaper prints an entertaining account of the convention held in that city by the new Labor Party. It seems to have been one long series of withdrawals.

When the resolutions committee proposed to denounce prohibition, a set of delegates withdrew and went home. When the majority showed itself in favor of the nationalization of land, the farmer representatives withdrew. When the soviet form of government was urged, another set of delegates withdrew, and when the League of Nations came up, still another set started for home.

It may sound funny, but it is tragic, because it represents a vicious tendency that seems epidemic in the United States just now.

There was the big industrial conference called by President Wilson. It seemed to be making real progress toward the solution of some of the big labor problems, when the labor group withdrew, and so broke up the conference.

It has been the same with attempted settlements of the coal strike. Every time the parties concerned get together, one group or the other leaves in high dudgeon, with nothing accomplished.

It was practically the same with the peace treaty in the Senate.

All this withdrawing in times of crisis is childish, and it is mischievous. It is simply "quitting"—and this is no time to tolerate quitters. What the country needs today more than anything else is for people to stand up and face the music—for quarrelling factions to get together and stay together and fight out their differences man to man, until by attrition and concession they arrive at acceptable compromises.

SAVE BY SPENDING

There are, broadly speaking, two temperaments in regard to the handling of money—the saving temperament and the spending temperament. The saver will always manage to save a little no matter how small his earning or income may be. Oftentimes he loses golden opportunities because they involve spending too much for his vision, but that is another story.

The spender always spends. No matter how small or large the income, his tendency is to use it up. Things interest him more than money. A bank balance is too inactive for his spendthrift mind.

The solution, then, is not to try to make over one's whole constitution, but to make use of this concrete turn of thought. If the spender will set his mind upon some object of permanency, a building lot, a few shares of conservative stock, he will find that he can make the necessary payments without being deprived of any of the other things he really needs. Clothes have a way of lasting a little longer when there is a land payment to meet. The joy of drawing wild and absolutely impractical house plans has a way of making the theatre and expensive trips to the city seem tame.

In time of stress the bit of property can be used to raise money.

solid feeling. It frees them from anxiety and thus increases earning power. It has a steady tendency upon other expenditure.

THE UNWILLING LORD

"Three generations from shirt-sleeves to shirt-sleeves" has become a proverbial description of Americans. Young Viscount Astor, son of the late William Waldorf Astor, feels the shirt-sleeve urge. He wanted to drop his title, inherited from his father, to stay in the House of Commons, where he had a seat, instead of sitting in the House of Lords. But will the English let him gratify his democratic ambition? They will not. A bill introduced in the House of Commons, under which he would have been able to give up his title, was defeated 159 to 56.

Perhaps this seems undemocratic. But is it? The English love a lord, but they are also sticklers for the lord's upholding his responsibility. From their own point of view, perhaps they were right. To drop the title would be to shirk a duty.

But from the American point of view, the advice to the young lord-in-spite-of-himself would be to chuck the whole business and come to America, where he can be any kind of private citizen he wants to be.

Make a Will

Attention has been called to the strange fact that the late Senator Belshaw, a man of affairs and wide experience left no will. Here was a man who had no children, who married a second time and was still without children, and who with his wife was blotted from life in a few minutes on a sunny afternoon. Alive one moment, full of vigor as any one; the next a crushed thing to be removed on a stretcher and die in a short time. A stepson a grown man survives him. But as the mother died first, was indeed killed instantly, who is Senator Belshaw's heir? This will give the lawyers a fine chance to get whatever there is while they settle that question. The fact remains that nobody knows what Charley Belshaw would like done with what was his when Death still his voice forever.

But that is a personal matter of direct interest only to his friends, friends of the wife who died with him and his first wife.

What concerns all of us is that many men, even past middle age as Belshaw was, put off the business of making a will. Young men rarely even think about it. It is not only that men of a certain temperament, shrink from such a grim detail, but there is in all of us a childish disregard of the probability of death for ourselves. The other fellow may die, but we calmly expect to go on as we are, at least until we are 70 or 80 years old. It is a bit of innate folly and we admit it when we see the young as well as the middle-aged and the aged called away.

Admitting all this shirking, folly and in some cases even superstition, sensible men make their wills as a proper business arrangement and with no regard to the probability of dying soon. There is no more reason to shrink from its details than from taking out a life insurance policy. If men could see in some clairvoyant moment all the trouble and controversy that come over the neglect of this obvious duty, making wills and keeping them up to date would be as much a matter of business detail as attending to deeds and mortgages and paying insurance premiums.

There is nothing men dislike more in life than having some other fellow get their property away from them. Carrying that thought on to the possibilities of after death every man should make a will so that what he has will go to those who have a right to his protection.

Cost Enormous

The federal treasury estimates appropriations needed to conduct the activities of the national government for the fiscal year 1921 approximate $5,000,000,000—by far the largest sum ever asked for in a single year in the history of the government. The minimum cost of governmental operations will be huge.

Because of the tremendous total of necessary appropriations the temptation will be great to indulge in extravagance—to let expenditures run a few million more than actually required in this, that and the other direction. The greater the sum total of national budget estimates, the more probable is it that waste in some form, or, mayhap, in various forms, may creep into the appropriations.

Congress should scrutinize the estimates very carefully and should hold down appropriations to actual needs, and no extravagance should be tolerated. On the other hand, no rigidly penurious policy should prevail which, in the long run, would not effect real economies.

Get Busy

High Prices & Profiteering

Most of the newspaper reports and most of the news about prospective governmental operations seem to assume that our high prices are due wholly to illegitimate practices in trade and to conscious profiteering.

That there is no profiteering no sane man will deny, but there are other causes for high prices which ought to be understood; and not all trade practices that tend to increase costs can be called profiteering. For example, prices are high everywhere now, as they always are after a war; a fact that is due largely to reduced production and insufficient supply. The only wonder now is that prices are not higher than they are and that supplies are as nearly sufficient as they seem to be.

Again, prices are high and will continue high while this war debt hangs over our heads unpaid—unless temporarily we go through a period of depression, and if we do that we shall likely starve and freeze like the rest of the world—for this debt must be paid out of our savings or else out of our EXTRA EARNINGS, and nobody seems inclined just now toward extra earnings.

A few months ago an agent of a popular but standard watch visited a retail jeweler. "Nothing in your line today," remarked the retailer. "Did I ask to sell anything?" replied the traveling representative of the company. "I am here to buy. I will give you the retail price for any watch you have in stock. We cannot fill our war orders and price is no consideration."

Let us analyze this transaction. The company was out picking up stock. It was to pay the salary and traveling expenses of the one it sent to find the watches. The retailer upon the other hand could not be expected to part with his stock, which was also in demand—for everybody bought freely during the war—unless he would get his usual profits or nearly so at least, for he not only had his gains to look after, but his customers to serve, lest he lose them to his competitors.

Here now is a transaction perfectly natural and legitimate, but which was bound to add five or ten dollars to the cost of every watch. Yet there was no profiteering.

The same principle applies to food, but as with watches, only when the supply is low. For example, a retail grocer in the same town with the jeweler was offered a twenty-five per cent raise if he would cancel an order for canned goods. Here was his opportunity to get his profits without handling the goods. He refused just as the jeweler did and for the same reason: in order to serve his customers.

We cannot get away from the old and fundamental fact that when the seller seeks the buyer prices tend downward, but when the buyer seeks the seller they will go up as sure as heated air rises over a fire, and no power on earth can prevent it.

Another fact is fundamental, too. When the supply is short the buyer will seek the seller, and if the buyer is hungry enough he will go the length of his pocketbook in closing a deal.

Of course, let clear cases of profiteering be prosecuted. Nothing is too bad for any man who deliberately holds up supplies and business now, but even this will have little and only temporary effect upon high prices. It may keep them from soaring to impossible heights at any given amount, but the only final remedy for high prices is the one The Country Gentleman has so often emphasized, namely, INCREASED PRODUCTION.

Even so, we may not expect pre-war prices in food any more than we may expect pre-war prices in clothing or other commodities. Not only that, but we must be prepared for relatively high prices at least until our war debt is paid. In the meantime, let's all go to work and be as sensible as possible under the irritating conditions that always follow war.

Hence from the busy joy-resounding fields,

Let us tread the maze

Of Autumn, unconfined, and taste, revived,

The breath of Orchard big with bending fruit,

Obedient to the breeze and beating ray,

From the deep-loaded bough a mellow shower

Lustrous melts away. The juicy Pear

Lies, in a soft profusion, scattered round,

A various sweetness swells the gentle race,

Such, falling frequent through the chiller night,

The fragrant stores, the wide-projected heaps

Of Apples, which the lusty-handed Year

Innumerable o'er the blushing orchard shakes

A various spirit, fresh, delicious, keen,

Dwells in their gelid pores,

Here wandering oft, fired with the restless thirst

Of thy applause, I solitary court

The inspiring breeze, and meditate the book

Of Nature, ever open; aiming thence,

Warm from the heart, to learn the moral Song.

And, as I steal along the sunny wall,

Where Autumn basks, with fruit-empurpled deep

My pleasing theme continual prompts my thought.

JANUARY 27 DATE OF SNELLGROVE TRIAL

Entering a plea of not guilty, A. Snellgrove, automobile repairman of Ramona Acres, before Judge Williams, in Department 2, superior court, today had the date of his trial set for January 27 on a charge of having had criminal relations with Raymond Leroux, 14.

The complaint was sworn to by Elsie Leroux, mother of the girl. After jury had failed to agree, several months ago, following Snellgrove's trial on a charge of a statutory offense against Lillian Doyabere, a second jury, several weeks later, returned a verdict of acquittal in the case.

Snellgrove was re-arrested on the Leroux charge as he was leaving the courtroom following the acquittal on the Doyabere charge.

QUIZ DATE SET

Is There A Santa Claus?

"Will you please tell me if there is a Santa Claus? Papa says not."

—No Santa Claus! Why, bless you, kiddies, of course there's a Santa Claus.

—Some big people forget the strangest things.

—No Santa Claus! Why do we hang up our stockings; and trim beautiful Christmas trees; and send loving messages to friends who are far away; and keep track all year long of the things that will make the children happiest?

—No Santa Claus! Why do mother and dad sit up till wee small hours on Christmas Eve making everything ready for the great surprise on Christmas?

—No Santa Claus! Why do we say "Merry Christmas" and wear a sprig of mistletoe or bright red holly?

—No Santa Claus! Why does everybody feel like forgetting the faults of others during the happy Christmas season?

—No Santa Claus! Why, Santa lives in the heart of everyone who loves his fellow-men.

AMO

I love the gay streets of a city.
The deep quiet of a country lane.
Summer raindrops on dry leaves falling—
Joys like these our hearts retain.
New moon o'er yon hill top rising.
Sounds of children's laughter at play.
Fond looks of love, and tender, sincere greeting—
These soothe and cheer us on our way.
I have roamed through republics and kingdoms.
Loved in mansions fair and humble cottage home.
Yet still I crave the soul's sweet freedom—
Come forth with me, still farther let us roam!

High School P. T. A. Meeting.

The Polytechnic High School Parent Teacher Association held a very profitable and interesting meeting yesterday afternoon in the music room of the high school. Mrs. H. M. Sammis, the president, presided. All repeated the Lord's Prayer in unison. The association was favored by a delightful piano selection by Elizabeth Parslow.

School Superintendent Cranston spoke on the proposed bond election to enlarge the high school plant. He said that the Board of Education and all who have seen the actual crowded working conditions at the High School are more than willing to improve the situation.

A program to provide for several years at least has been outlined. The essential thing is for the people to support the board at the polls, else it will be handicapped.

A. B. Gardner, of the Board of Education exhibited the plans of the proposed addition. A gymnasium, auditorium extra class rooms and extension of the shops building are all badly needed, and are provided for in the plans.

The slogan from now on till January 13 is "Boost for the High School Bonds."

The message from the high school P. T. A. is:

"If you are not registered or if you have moved, see to it that your name is properly registered or transferred before December 14."

The association was again favored with a splendid clarinet solo by Lyle Roberts. He was accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Wright. They very generously responded to an encore.

After the reading of the revised constitution, Miss Daniels gave a report of the uniform for girls which will be in effect the first of the year. Miss Daniels exhibited a sample skirt which may be of dark blue or black material. She also stated that any kind of a white middie may be worn this year, although next fall the regulation middie only, will be allowed.

Mrs. Weseman was asked to take charge of all articles to be donated by the P. T. A. in response to an appeal from the Logan school. Dish pans, cooking utensils, toys and clothing are especially wanted.

Miss Stanley gave a very interesting report of the District Federation held recently in the Intermediate school.

Mrs. Sidney Saunby, formerly a school nurse in Los Angeles, gave an address on "The Parent Teachers' Association's Part in the Americanization program." This problem is one of vital importance and should have the active cooperation of both parents and teachers. The association was invited to take tea with the girls' league, a small sum being charged.

The next meeting will be in the evening in order that the fathers may attend.

Fraternal Aid Union Elects

The Fraternal Aid Union will hold its annual election of officers to night. We will also have initiation. Our state manager will be with us and outline more fully the plan for the campaign for new members.

There will be something doing every minute. The business meeting will be followed by entertainment and light refreshments.

Country Club Dance Postponed

Owing to the unsettled condition of the weather and the muddy roads between here and the Country Club, the Country Club members have decided to postpone their annual Christmas dance, which was scheduled to take place tonight, until next Thursday evening, December 11, in the hope that the rain will clear away by that time.

South Section Ladies' Aid

A most pleasant meeting of the South Section of the Ladies' Aid of the First M. E. church was held yesterday with Mrs. Meyer on South Broadway.

Quilt blocks were pieced and many plans discussed for future work.

Country Club Dance Postponed

Owing to an unfortunate oversight, the notice of the postponement of the annual Christmas dance did not appear in last night's paper. Plans for the dance were being carried out until yesterday afternoon when it was decided that the weather was too unsettled for the dance to be successfully given because of the extreme mudiness of the roads between here and the club.

Mrs. Francis C. Lillard who was chosen as hostess for the dance, notified, by phone, as many of the club members of the postponement as was possible but it is feared that a few may have gone to the club and been disappointed.

The dance will be given next Thursday evening if the weather permits.

Shell Music Section to Meet

The music section of the Shell society will meet Monday, Dec. 8, 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Thur Lyon, 809 North Bush street. A special Christmas program will be given and all of the members urged to be present.

Joy Duck Dinner

Fifteen guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Babbitt, 28 East Walnut street, last evening at a duck dinner.

Mr. Babbitt, Mr. Garroway and several others returned from several days hunting at Wilhows where they had excellent shooting. Many of their friends were fortunate enough to receive birds from them during their absence.

To Give Jolly Comedy

The girls of St. Elizabeth's Guild of the Church of the Messiah are working early and late to perfect a little comedy they are going to give on Tuesday evening of next week in the Parish hall. It is going to be a great treat for the members of the parish and their friends and all are looking forward to it with pleasure.

Plan Christmas Activities

Despite the gray weather which prevailed yesterday, the cheerful parlors at the home of Mrs. Robert G. Tutill on North Broadway were well filled with members of St. Joseph's Catholic Altar Society and ladies of the congregation, who planned a number of Christmas activities to make others happy. These are as yet secrets among the members.

The guests yesterday carried to Mrs. Tutill's home various warm and useful garments, which were given to Mrs. James Manwarring, one of the teachers in Logan Mexican school, all clean and neatly mended, the ladies having put in a portion of the afternoon in putting the clothing in good condition.

A few cents' charge is placed upon the garments, except in cases of destitution, and Mrs. Manwarring reported that a recent donation from the Catholic women brought about $12. Clothing given by the D. A. R. brought almost as much. A bathroom will be equipped with the money.

The Catholic ladies were invited to visit Logan school at 2 o'clock next Friday to hear a program by the school children in this school, now numbering ninety-one pupils.

Mrs. Tutill served delicious ice cream, home-made cakes and coffee, which closed the delightful afternoon.

MAXWELL CHASSIS ATTRACTING CROWD

The famous 1920 Maxwell Chassis is attracting many interested motor car owners today at the salesroom of G. H. Christian, Fourth at French where it will be on display all day tomorrow.

"This Maxwell chassis is a real feat in engineering skill in that the different assemblies, such as the motor, clutch, transmission, differential are cut open in such a manner that the working parts can be seen functioning just as they are in actual service on the road," said Christian today.

By means of miniature electric lights placed internally the crank shaft, camshaft, valves, and complete oiling system can be plainly seen and easily understood. All of the moving parts are seen, as shown in operation.

The exhibition is educational nature and every car owner or driver should see it, regardless of the make of car that he or she may drive. This is an opportunity worth taking advantage of to study the construction of the modern automobile in a manner that is seldom presented, and one may learn much in a few minutes of inspection. This chassis than in hours of study of books and catalogs.

CATARHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmitin (double strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone losing hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

WORLD DEED NOT INDICATED BY PLANETS

Star Gazers See No Reason to Believe Annihilation Coming Dec. 17

You can go right along preparing for a merry Christmas without fearing that the world is to come to an end on December 17, as has been predicted by some persons with queer ideas, says the Pasadena Star-News. The astronomers who are looking through 100-inch telescopes and the like up on Mount Wilson are going right ahead with their plans for the next ten years and it is safe to say that there is no fear in astronomical circles of a sudden disappearance of the earth from the firmament.

The new 100-inch telescope is being tested out nightly and the astronomers are keeping their eyes open for any unusual behavior on the part of the stars. So far not a shimmy or a wiggle has been observed on the part of Venus. She is very sedate and is not even indulging in the returning decorous waltzes pronounced as fair by dancing masters.

Saturn is displaying none of the saturnalia you read about as having occurred in ancient times where everyone became reckless and lost both manners and morals. Instead, he is as saturnine as the most phlegmatic college professor with a problem that will not prove or a butcher trying to dispose of an over-ripe sausage.

Mars is sitting quietly on his throne watching the Reds and Russians chase each other over the bleak steppes of the Siberian wilds and has no notion of declaring war on any of the planets or fixed stars. In fact, Mars is behaving himself like a lady with a box of chocolates and a good novel.

As for Jupiter, he is very gentlemanly just now and he is not even looking at Neptune as he floats around in the ethereal blue. Mercury is not in condition for a fast race, and Uranus is as quiet as a mouse, so there is no quarrel on the part of any of the major planets with the earth that would indicate that they are intending to take this mundane sphere. At least that is what the gentlemen whose eyes have been glued to the telescope on the mountains intimate, although they will not be quoted.

It is mighty hard to get a direct quotation out of a thoroughbred astronomer, for he plays safe. However, it may be announced upon the authority of the janitor who heard the chauffeur say that the stenographer told the chief clerk that the man on the hill says there is to be no millennium on the 17th of December for many a year to come, or words to that effect.

When a reporter called at the office of the Mount Wilson observatory this week he was told that Dr. Hinkle, the head, was out of the city and that no one there would be quoted as to what observations are being made.

Asked whether there were any sun spots likely to burn up the world on the 17th, those at the laboratory just laughed and shook their heads. Which is interpreted to mean "nix on the end of the world yarn."

So far as could be learned at the observatory, there is no unusual disturbance in the heavens that would warrant any prediction that the world is to come to an end in two weeks.

So if you have been making your will and winding up your earthly affairs expecting to migrate to another sphere on the 17th, just unwind them and jax along as usual. There is to be no planetary gymnastics during December that would warrant any fear of the millennium.

INHERITANCE TAX AT TUSTIN DETERMINED
That a total of $63.34 is due the state as inheritance tax from property at Tustin, died in 1914 by Sarah E. Wilcox, prior to her death, to her daughter, Mary E. Padgham, and others, was the information contained in a report which State Tax Appraiser John N. Anderson had on file today.

Anderson's report was filed in connection with a petition filed by the office of the state controller for the determination of inheritance tax that might be due on the property, which Mrs. Wilcox bequeathed to her daughter and to Jeanette Kraft, Henry I. Padgham, Miriam Elizabeth Kraft, Rosamond Louise Kraft, Wheaton Kraft and Merwyn Kraft. Petitions of this nature are filed as a usual procedure in cases where property is transferred prior to the death of the owner.

The property in question is located on what is officially described as Bundy's addition to Tustin city. One block that was deeded is bounded by Pasadena avenue, Fourth street, Myrtle avenue and an unnamed street. Other property nearby was mentioned in the petition.

Wanted All the Fixins'
The little man made his way back to the theater box office. "This seat number sounds like a German submarine; it's U-19," he said.

"You don't want to change it merely on that account, do you?" asked the box office manager.

"No, but I thought you might be able to supply me with a periscope to enable me to see over the big woman sitting just in front."

STOP TOBACCO

Stop tobacco for a month and see how much better you feel. You can stop without suffering inconvenience or feeling the usual craving. Simply get a box of Nicotol from any drugist, use as directed, and the habit quits you. Your health will be better, your resistance to disease will increase and you will cease to be a slave to nicotine. Read what Dr. Connor formerly of the Johns Hopkins Hospital, says about the evil effects of tobacco in an article soon to appear in this paper. Nicotol is dispensed by all good druggists in this city, especially by Rowley Drug Co., Adv.

China Is Great Field for American Trade, Says Mead, Home from Orient

THAT the United States has a wonderful opportunity to develop trade in China, that American-made goods are very popular and that Americans are the most popular of all foreigners in China are declarations made by Loren Mead, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mead of 602 East Chestnut.

Mead has just arrived home from a stay of four years in China as a member of the Standard Oil Company's business force in China. His work took him over a large part of China, excepting some of the interior provinces. He was in nearly all of the large cities, and became acquainted with large numbers of the leading men of China.

"American trade in China has made big strides in the four years I have been in China," said Mead. "Americans are today the most popular of the foreigners. That popularity is due to fair dealing. Americans have not endeavored to exploit the Chinese as some other foreigners have done. In general American goods have proven up to representations. I believe that there is a great future for American trade in China."

China Awakening
"China has been in many ways a helpless nation, but there is great encouragement for the future. China is awakening. The protest against the Shantung arrangement shows that a national spirit is aroused. "When the students of the country some six months ago undertook a nation-wide boycott of Japanese goods, most people thought it would be short-lived. The movement, however, did not die in a few weeks. When I left the first of November it was very strong and it had spread all over China, excepting some of the interior provinces that are out of touch with affairs."

"Not only will the great proportion of the people not buy Japanese-made goods but the stores won't carry them. Just before I left a woman of my acquaintance went to one of the biggest chain of stores in China and tried to match a piece of Japanese goods. She was told that the stores were not even offering Japanese goods for sale."

"The feeling over Shantung is very strong, and it has resulted in a strong disposition of the people all over China to watch the doings of their governmental officials. Several officials who sold out to the Japanese have been mobbed. Crooked officialdom has been the curse of China, as everyone knows, and this agitation has resulted in putting fear into the hearts of the crooks. The present president of China is looked upon as a good, honest man."

"People over in China have no faith at all that Japan will ever give up Shantung. Japan may give up Manchuria because Manchuria is too cold for the Japanese, but I don't believe they will ever let go any hold on Shantung. The Japanese are going into Shantung in great numbers, spreading their police and requirement of the maturity laws."

Trainload Lost Forty Days Without Food Supplies or Medicine
LWOW, Poland, Dec. 3.—A trainload of starving and disease-stricken refugees has arrived here after forty days of traveling without sufficient food, medical treatment or sufficient clothing.

The train left Odessa many days ago for the Polish frontier. Learning that it had been lost somewhere between Odessa and the frontier the Red Cross sent Dr. Jack Kendrick, of Fairfax, Virginia, out with a special engine and a car loaded with medicines and food to locate the train. He found it in Roumania, four hundred miles from Poland.

The refugees were in terrible condition. Their food supplies, issued by the Polish consul at Odessa had been exhausted. Dysentery and typhus had broken out and the water supply had been reduced to what could be found along the railway.

Their train had been thirty days out from Odessa and had covered but 500 miles. Their locomotive, a patched wreck left behind by the Bolsheviks, had completely broken down. The crew had gone ahead on a hand car to obtain another. The country through which they passed had been laid waste by war. Nothing remained but tangled barbed wire and caving trenches. People jumped from the train to search in vain for roots or grass to make soup.

Men, women and children were huddled together in foul smelling freight cars. Some had little bundles of possessions, but the majority had nothing but the few rags they wore. Frequent stops were necessary to bury the dead.

I am writing to thank you for the treatment that I received from you last winter (the year 1918) it surely put me on my feet, as two other medical Dr.'s had failed to help me any, and had advised me to go to Rochester, Minn., but after taking a few adjustments and two baths I felt like a new man, am thanking you again and beg to remain your friend

Courtenay, N. D., Nov. 28, 1919.
On Dec. 8th, 1918, I was taken sick with the Spanish influenza. I had a medical Dr. But after I thought I was well I got terrible pains across the small part of my back which got so bad I couldn't stoop to put on my shoes. I was in pain for several days. On Jan. 1st, 1919, I called the medical Dr. again he gave me some liniment to rub on my back but nothing would stop that terrible pain. So finally I decided I would try a chiropractor. I went to Dr. Berge, who was at Carrington, N. D., at that time, and he cured me in a few days. After staying in Carrington a few weeks and taking his treatment I came home and have felt good ever since and am now able to work as well as ever. Also a carpenter whom I have known for 15 years was here the other day and said he had never seen so wonderful a Dr. as Dr. Berge this man had his lungs full of stuff caused by the "flu" but after taking a few treatments he feels fine and weighs more and looks healthier than he has for years

To Whom It May Concern:
It gives me great pleasure to tell you of the great benefits my self and son have received at the hands of Dr. H. A. Berge. In July of 1915 I was troubled with a severe pain in my side. I doctored with the M. D.'s without results, and was advised to try Dr. Berge, which I did, and to the end I cannot give him too much praise. I was operated on for piles but they came back. Dr. Berge has cured them all and adjusted the cause—Bowel trouble. I have a passage every day and feel like a new man, thanks to Dr. H. A. Berge, D. C. The case of influenza. My son came down with the flu, the M. D.'s doctored and finally told me if there was no change before 11 P. M. there were no chances for him to pull through. I didn't wait for that 11 P. M. but called Dr. Berge over the phone and he promptly came over and in less than 2 hours had reduced the fever from 105 to 102 and after that he gained steadily until he was as stout as ever. Thank you Dr. H. A. Berge.

Private rights are all right in normal times, but in emergency there's always the right of eminent domain to fall back on—whether it's railroads or coal mines or anything else.

Placentian Accuses Wandrer He Befriended; Complaint Filed
How he played the role of a good Samaritan and how he later was made the victim of an alleged robbery by the man he befriended was told at the office of the district attorney by A. R. Woodward, of Placentia.

On the strength of a complaint on file in justice court today and sworn to by Woodward, a warrant was issued for the arrest of "John Doe" Ferguson, the alleged man who befriended the friendship of Woodward.

According to the story Woodward told at the office of the district attorney, Woodward met Ferguson in Fullerton, Ferguson was unable to find a room in which to stay over night, so Woodward took him to his room and gave him leave to sleep with him in his own bed, the complaint said.

Next morning Woodward took Ferguson to the home of the former's mother, a short distance from the building where he roomed, and the two men ate breakfast, it was alleged.

Woodward's mother was said to have invited her son and Ferguson to return to her home for luncheon. The two men left for Fullerton. There, according to Woodward, Ferguson refused the invitation to luncheon, pleading pressure of another engagement. The two men parted.

Later, when Woodward went to his room, he found that a suit of clothes and a pair of tan shoes had been stolen. Woodward said. Then Woodward came to the office of the district attorney and swore to a complaint, charging Ferguson with burglary.

Ferguson was described by Woodward at the office of Sheriff C. E. Jackson as a man about 22 years of age and weighing about 140 pounds. Ferguson was light in complexion and had dark hair and brown eyes. Woodward told the sheriff.

Dear Friend:

In response to your inquiry as to my good health I am pleased to inform you that I have been in perfect health ever since you cured me of constipation. You will remember that I had been bothered with constipation for about four years, and it was growing gradually worse. I had taken different medicines subscribed by a local physician for nearly a year without any permanent results. Finally I decided to give you a chance, altho I really didn't have much faith in your system. That was due entirely to the fact that I didn't understand your principals.

I think you gave me eighty-four adjustments without any results, after that my bowels began to work properly and with a few more adjustments I was cured.

If I would have stopped at the eighty-four adjustments I would have thought you had done me no good.

About the most remarkable cure that I know of was the time you cured the sty that gave my wife so much annoyance, with only one adjustment.

Sincerely,
RALPH WALTER.

HARD GRIND BEGINS TO TELL ON CYCLERS

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The pace told today in the fifth day of the six-day bicycle race. The field began to spread out. With Weber leading, ten teams at the 104th hour were tied at 1885 miles, six laps. Buysac and Spiessons and Brocco and Verri were trailing one lap behind and Spencer and Chapman and Tibergheim and Charden were two laps behind. The record is 2651 miles, five laps, made by Fogler and Hill in 1914.

Dear Sir:

I cannot too highly recommend the methods used by Dr. Berge, Chiropractor, for the treatment of Influenza and Pneumonia. Last winter our family of seven children were severely ill with Influenza. We at once called Dr. Berge, and in almost every case not more than one or two treatments were required to reduce the temperature to normal, and relieve the severe cough. After having Influenza one day my youngest child had a very bad case of Pneumonia. Only one treatment was necessary to reduce the temperature to normal, the cough loosened up and in a couple of days the child was as well as usual. Dr. Berge's success in the treatment of Rheumatism is wonderful. My eldest son was very ill with Inflammatory Rheumatism for about a month. We tried several Doctors, but could get no relief for him. We finally decided to try the Chiropractor. We carried him from the car to the office the first two days, the third day he was able to walk with some help and in a week was able to walk from home to the Doctor's office, a distance of nearly half a mile. We can never be thankful enough to Dr. Berge for the great help he has been to us.

Sincerely,
MRS. FRANK BROWN.

8 FOOT DEPTH BEST DRAIN SYSTEM

Engineer Discourses on Best Methods at Farm Center Meeting

That drainage pipe should be put in at a depth of not less than eight feet to get the best results, was the declaration last night of Drainage Engineer W. W. Wier of Berkeley University, in an address to farmers at the meeting of the Garden Grove Center in Y. M. C. A. building, Garden Grove and Buaro are now working on the organization of drainage districts, and members of both districts were in attendance.

The engineer amplified his remarks by the use of stereopticon views taken from various sections of California, Utah and Arizona. The views showed construction work in progress and conditions before and after reclamation.

He maintains that in most irrigated sections drainage is necessary to the preservation of the soil and its continued productivity. Irrigation raises the water table, and drainage is necessary to keep it to a level where it will not damage tree growth and develop alkali.

Most irrigation waters contain more or less salt, according to his statement and use of this with a rising water table, will result in bringing alkali to the surface, unless prevented through drainage. He said that artesian water usually is more free of salt than water pumped from shallower strata. So far as he knew there is little salt in the waters used for irrigating purposes in Orange county. His observations on this point was the result of a question from a member of the audience as to whether it would be advisable to use drainage water for irrigation. He advised against its use, unless it was free of alkaline qualities.

He showed apple orchards that had been ruined by alkali resulting from a rising water table, and showed the same lands in valuable production following their reclamation by drainage. The same conditions were shown on alfalfa and other lands.

His advice was to put in drainage systems before the ground within seven or eight feet of the surface became water soaked, as the expense before this occurs is much less than after, the water soaked land costing extra for installation of pipe by reason of the necessity often of expensive supports for the side-walls of the ditch.

Drains at six and eight feet deep could be placed from 600 to 800 feet apart, where under shallow drains they have to be put in every forty to fifty feet, depending on the character of soil.

He gave many valuable suggestions on the proper installation of drainage systems and his auditors were deeply interested in his discourse and the pictures evidencing the value of drainage.

BRITAIN JOINTED BY FEET OF JOE BECKETT

French Fighter Lays Big Battler Low In First Seventy Seconds

BY WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Dec. 5.—Her hope blasted; her pride badly jolted, London was still dazed today.

But they could hardly believe their idol was a broken idol.

Joe Beckett, the idol they had trusted with the mission of bringing the world's championship to England, had unconsciously been shoved back into nowhere.

There was everything to remind one of it, however. Hundreds of Americans and hundreds more of Frenchmen who had crossed the channel to see their polu defend his crown, were still recounting vividly as much as they remembered of that French panther's activity during the 74 seconds of that first round.

Verbal pictures were held up to the Londoners of the mighty bulk of Beckett sprawling face downward, trying to get his legs and arms out of the coma into which they had been knocked by the wild right of the French aviator.

Beckett still does not know what hit him.

"I hadn't started to fight when I got it. I didn't realize what happened," Beckett said today in explaining the attempt he made to get away from his seconds and go after the Frenchman when he had been revived.

Manager Mortimer, who had planned a match with Jack Dempsey for the world's championship, said: "Carpenter made good one chance in a million; that's all he had."

Beckett's followers blame him for walking into a trap like a child. Carpenter feinted low with his left and the big bulky Englishman let his defense drop. The Frenchman then shot a terrific right that seemed to start from his knee. It connected flush on his opponent's jaw with a crash and Beckett went down.

Opinion agrees that it was a fast working brain with a perfect coordination of the fists that won for Carpenter.

Cochrane Asserts Dempsey Sure to Battle Carpenter

LONDON, Dec. 5.—Promoter Cochrane today declared his confidence of matching Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, with Georges Carpenter, European champion, for a fight before the Olympia Club here June 7.

"I have just received a cable from Jack Kearns, manager of Champion Dempsey," Cochrane said. "He assured me that my offer would be considered first and I feel the deal is virtually closed. The fight will be held next June, at the Olympia. I am starting for America immediately and am taking with me enough money to induce Dempsey to make the trip to London for the fight. Although Kearns said he would rather have the fight in America, he expressed his willingness to come over here."

WOMAN NAMED FOX GREETED EMBEZZLER

When the wife of George A. Fox, convicted embezzler, met him at the station in San Francisco as he was en route to San Quentin, two other women were present to greet him, and one of them told Mrs. Fox that her name also was Fox, it was known here today. Neither of the women was previously known to Mrs. Fox.

Fox was convicted of embezzling $5106.25 from Mrs. Anna G. Walters, Anaheim widow, through lover's wiles.

The woman of mystery who visited Fox in his cell at the Los Angeles county jail Tuesday, just prior to his departure for state's prison, came from Pennsylvania, it has since been learned. She was prepared, she said, to spend $100,000, if necessary, to appeal his case to the United States supreme court.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

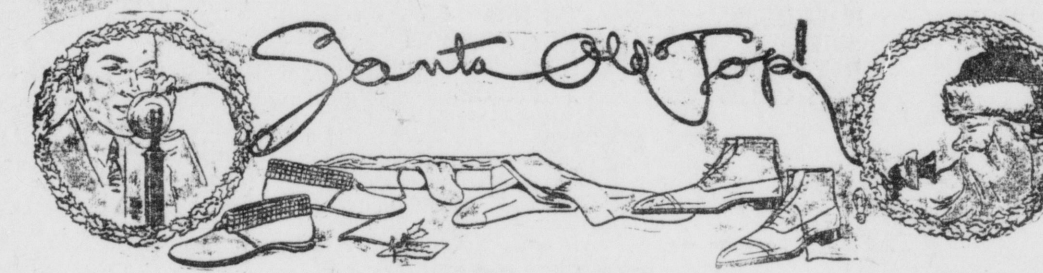

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

SHELLS SET OFF HISTORY SHOWS BY GRASS FIRE IN FRANCE TREATIES ARE LONG DELAYED

Residents Flee Daily From Shrapnel Rain; Woman
Severely Gassed

LAON, France, Dec. 5.—Though the war is over, residents of the devastated districts of France are daily fleeing from bursts of shell and shrapnel.

The new menace is caused by the small grass and swamp fires which are following an unusually dry period in Northern France, which frequently set off the shells that have been piled up to be hauled away and exploded in some safe place.

Major H. C. Greene, of Boston, Mass., had a thrilling ride and narrowly escaped a hill of shrapnel on his way from St. Quentin to Laon this week as a result of one of these fires. A French woman working in a field near Bouconville was painfully gassed and considerable property damage has been done.

In the vast, desolate fields, thousands of unexploded shells have been picked up by German prisoners and though there are details hauling them away and setting them off in remote valleys every day, there are still long ranks of them everywhere. Sparks from locomotives and from small fires where battlefield rubbish is being burned, occasionally set fire to patches of dry grass and the accidental bursts are numerous. Roads passing places where shells are being set off are guarded but it is from the accidental blasts that the danger comes.

Major Greene was driving along a road to one of the villages where he has a committee at work, when a small prairie fire reached stray shells just over a hill near the road. A fragment whizzed near his head. He put on full speed but several other explosions followed quickly and one piece of shrapnel tore through the top of his automobile. When he reached safety he made a circuit of the district and warned the residents not to enter the road until the grass fire had burned out.

The French woman who was gassed was almost a quarter of a mile away from the bursting shell, but in a valley. She was rushed to one of the Red Cross stations and was found to be painfully burned, but not internally injured. Residents of the Aisne district are depending upon the rains to end this danger, which has been the most serious faced since the work of reconstruction began.

After Man Wars, Peace Declarations Are Withheld
For Months

When the armistice was signed more than a year ago there was a few joy killers who tried to take the edge off the celebration by saying: "Ah! but do not celebrate too soon. This is only the armistice, and peace itself will not come until the treaty is signed, which may not be until next April."

April, indeed! We laughed as we had laughed at those who, in August, 1914, had prophesied that the war would last three years. And we think today our patience has been tried beyond all limits and we have been kept waiting beyond all precedent for real peace. But we haven't.

The treaty of Utrecht, for instance, which ended the long series of "Queen Anne" wars, was signed in April, 1713, at the conclusion of a war in January, 1712. In the Napoleonic wars a preliminary treaty was signed in May, 1814, and a congress to rearrange the map of Europe and make a final settlement was in session at Vienna from September until June, 1815.

In the American Revolution almost two years elapsed between the surrender of Cornwallis, which virtually ended the fighting, and the signing of the peace treaty in Paris. Cornwallis surrendered October 19, 1781. The peace treaty was finally demobilized in October, 1783.

But the treaty negotiations that hold the record for wearisome dawdling and red tape were those between Louis XIV of France and the Grand Alliance in 1697 at Ryswick, Holland. So tiresome did the proceedings become indeed that King Louis and King William III of England, the chief parties to the conference, took matters into their own hands, cast to the winds all established notions of diplomatic etiquette and forced a conclusion. Months had been devoted to a dispute about the place where the conference should be held. Then other months were wasted on petty formalities of dress and precedence.

At last William determined to bring the mummy to a speedy close. He had one of his officers get in touch with the French marshal in command in the Netherlands. The marshal got permission from Louis and the two officers met in an orchard near Brussels. They walked up and down together for two hours and in that time did more business than the diplomats at Ryswick had done in as many months.

That was then the latter part of June and by the end of July everything was settled, so far as England and France were concerned. The other nations concerned quickly fell into line and peace was concluded almost before the plenipotentiaries entrusted with the treaty had decided where each should sit at the council table.—Margaret C. Getchell in Philadelphia Public Ledger.

May We Suggest a New Coat for Her Christmas Gift

It hasn't been many years ago since it was the general custom to choose gifts regardless of their utility or real merit. Consequently each year a great many gifts found their way into bureau drawers to lie there unused and unwanted.

Now, foolish presents are banned. Useful, practical gifts are the order of the day. Everyone should give presents that are of real use and value, thus keeping up the true spirit of Christmas.

What would be more practical for a husband to give his wife or a parent their daughter one of these elegant coats for Christmas. They are strictly new—only just received by express today. Heavy all-wool materials and trimmed with real fur collars. Some are full lined with fancy printed silks.

Many of them actually cost wholesale $30.00 to $35.00 earlier in the season and retailed at $40.00 to $50.00. We bought them at a price whereby we can sell them at:

SLANG DICTIONARY FILLED WITH PEP

At last the turkey trot, the shimmy, the jazz band, the jitter and the squeeze play have been admitted to the hitherto barred pages of the latest additions to dictionaries that appeared in Los Angeles recently.

No more will a society girl arch her eyebrows and look with withering asstance at the luckless chap who happens to comment on the "jolly bunch of bar files" he used to fly around with before the great drouth.

In fact, it is admitted, her proper comment would be, "Really, you talk like a simp; you're batty in the belly, loose in your carburetor; your mental magnet's full of dirt; can that stuff. I know you never browsed away from your mother's pasture in all your life. Spring some more chatter before your brains dry up, waiting for a thought to lubricate them."

Describes Bunny Hug
It's also perfectly proper to enlarge on the accomplishments of the cootie, ask the stranger what his moniker is and talk about your trench foot—that is, if you can get away with it. The new dictionary has become callous enough to introduce these words to the literary world and the literateurs and society bunch is expected to follow ready suit.

Among the slang words which the dictionary seriously and learnedly delates upon are the bunny hug and the jazz band, and the old word—bunk. The dictionary even tells you how to do the bunny hug, grizzly bear and the turkey trot, in this style, evidently written by a college professor. "An eccentric ragtime dance, danced with the feet well apart and with a characteristic rise on the ball of the foot, followed by a drop upon the heel."

As to Lizzie
Bunk is described thusly: "False or misleading or empty speech, or expression; trash; humbug; buncombe."

The historic cootie is labeled briefly and effectively, "A body louse."

The flivver has this written about it: "A small and inexpensive automobile, hence, anything which is small of its kind and insignificant."

This last word is expected to cause the 100,000 or so owners of the classic tin lizzie to rise in their wrath and shout down imprecations upon those responsible for the awful designation of their proud vehicles.

Other words learnedly explained are the shineball, the juiney, jitter, jazz band, Lennie, moose, pork barrel, munch, speedster, spitball, squeeze play, swaggar stick, Texas Leaguer, trench foot, motor lorry and the bunny hug.—Los Angeles Express.

REPORT IS MADE ON BRITISH CHILD LABOR

Under the terms of the education act recently passed into law, it is provided that, from January 1, 1920, no street trading by children under 14 years of age will be permitted; no children between 12 and 14 years of age may be employed for more than two hours on Sunday, or before 6 a. m. or after 8 p. m. or before the close of school on week days. No children under 12 may be employed except by parents. With a view to enforcing the foregoing, the home office is requesting local authorities to register children and employers, particular attention to be given such trades as milk and newspapers. They further asked to prohibit entirely the employment of children in occupations liable to be harmful or to insist on medical certificates of fitness for any so employed. During school terms children should have a half day for games or scout work on Saturdays and it is suggested that no child between the age of 12 and 14 should be employed for more than five hours on any day. Local authorities willing to permit morning work will be required to satisfy the home office that full inquiry has been made as to the conditions of employment, but work before school may not exceed one hour or commence before 7 a. m.—U. S. Commerce Reports.

The Fourteenth Decennial Census is to be taken during the month of January, 1920.

The first census of the United States was taken in 1790, during the administration of George Washington. It related solely to population.

The Constitution of the United States requires that a census of the United States be taken every ten years. It is by this means that the apportionment of members of the House of Representatives is made as to states.

The Bureau of the Census is a part of the Department of Commerce. It was established as a permanent bureau in 1902. Prior to that time the census work was done by a temporary organization known as the Census Office.

A census of the country's manufactures was made for the first time in 1810. Under the present law a manufactures' census is to be taken in connection with the Fourteenth Decennial Census and every two years thereafter.

An enumeration of the mines and quarries of the United States was made for the first time in 140.

OUTLINES PLAN FOR DOING ITS WORK FOR NEW LEGISLATION

Mrs. A. J. Lawton, Council Head, Proposes Making County Its Unit

Under the leadership of Mrs. A. J. Lawton of Santa Ana, recently elected to the presidency of the Woman's Legislative Council of California, that body bids fair to broaden its scope, and make itself an organization of undoubted influence in the state. This council is the only organization in the state created for the purpose of coordinating all other women's organizations for legislative work. Its main interest is in legislation of benefit to women and children, but the organization supports all welfare legislation.

At a recent meeting of the executive board, Mrs. Lawton presented a working plan, which was adopted unanimously. According to her outline, the county will be the unit through which the council's scope will be enlarged. She urges call meetings in each county of presidents and delegates representing the large group organizations, including the California Federation of Women's Clubs, the Mothers Congress and Parent-Teacher Associations, the W. C. T. U. and presidents and delegates of individual organizations and the legislative chairmen of all these affiliated organizations.

Only One in State The Women's Legislative Council is the only organization in the state, created for the purpose of co-ordinating all other women's organizations for legislative work.

Its main interest is in legislation for the benefit of women and children; but the council supports all welfare legislation.

There are some twenty or more laws on the statute books of California initiated or supported by the council.

During the sessions of the last legislature Mrs. Lawton was in Sacramento as a member of the Women's Legislative Council. Recently she was elected to the chairmanship of the council.

Under the plan of operation of the council, any measure that is believed worthy of passage may be submitted to it. From all proposed measures submitted three are selected for submission to each session of the legislature, and upon the passage of those three measures the forces of the women's organizations of the state are concentrated.

Improvement and Expansion of the Register and Santa Ana Demonstrated By Larger Printing Press

Installation of a Sixteen Page Rotary Machine Marks New Era For Big Paper and Greater City

GROWTH OF REGISTER IS DUE TO LOYALTY

This Newspaper Hopes To Be Important Factor In Commercial Supremacy of Santa Ana and County

WITH the printing of today's paper, in enlarged form, on its new 16-page rotary stereotype press, a new era is marked in the development of the Register; also in the evolutionary growth of Santa Ana—in its transition from a country town to a small city. For today Santa Ana has more than a semi-metropolitan newspaper—indeed the Register ranks well up with the newspapers of most cities of 50,000 to 100,000 population.

This is not said boastfully, for the credit is more due to Santa Ana and Orange County than it is to the publishers of this paper. But for the great and varied resources of Orange County and the enterprise and loyalty of the business men of Santa Ana in particular and the people of Orange County in general, such a paper as the Register could not be published in a town the size of Santa Ana. If, as may be truly said, no town the size of Santa Ana could have such a newspaper as the Register without a staff of enterprising, ambitious, enthusiastic newspaper men, still the credit stays with Santa Ana and Orange County, for only such a town and county could attract and hold such a staff, or command the necessary investment of capital.

Not for self-laudation then, but because it is of some community importance that the readers and advertisers of the Register should know the facts, let it here be stated that—FOR A TOWN THE SIZE OF SANTA, the Register has the largest

Shortage of Nails Here May Cause Some Delay In Building Operations

A shortage of nails so serious as to mean the possible delay in building operations, not alone in Santa Ana, but in practically every other community in the state, is threatening contractors and builders, it was known here today. Strikes in the east and the coal shortage are held responsible for the lack of the little wire fasteners, dealers here declared. "Scarce as hens' teeth" is the way two hardware men described the situation with regard to nails.

"We seem to have been able to get along so far," said F. P. Nickey, hardware dealer. "The nail situation may become more serious than it is at present. Sheet metal is very scarce, and there is also a shortage in rough plumbing material. The jobbers are down to nothing, and the manufacturers are about in the same situation. The coal strike is one source of trouble. If production is speeded up soon we may be able to get through."

"We are turning down orders on staple sizes, nails and builders are using odd sizes," Albert Hill, of S. Hill & Son hardware dealers said. "But even the odd sizes are running low. The wholesale houses can see no relief. Stocks are extremely low. The situation may ease up in perhaps fifty days, we are told. Numbers of contractors, realizing a shortage was imminent, bought up all the nails we let them have."

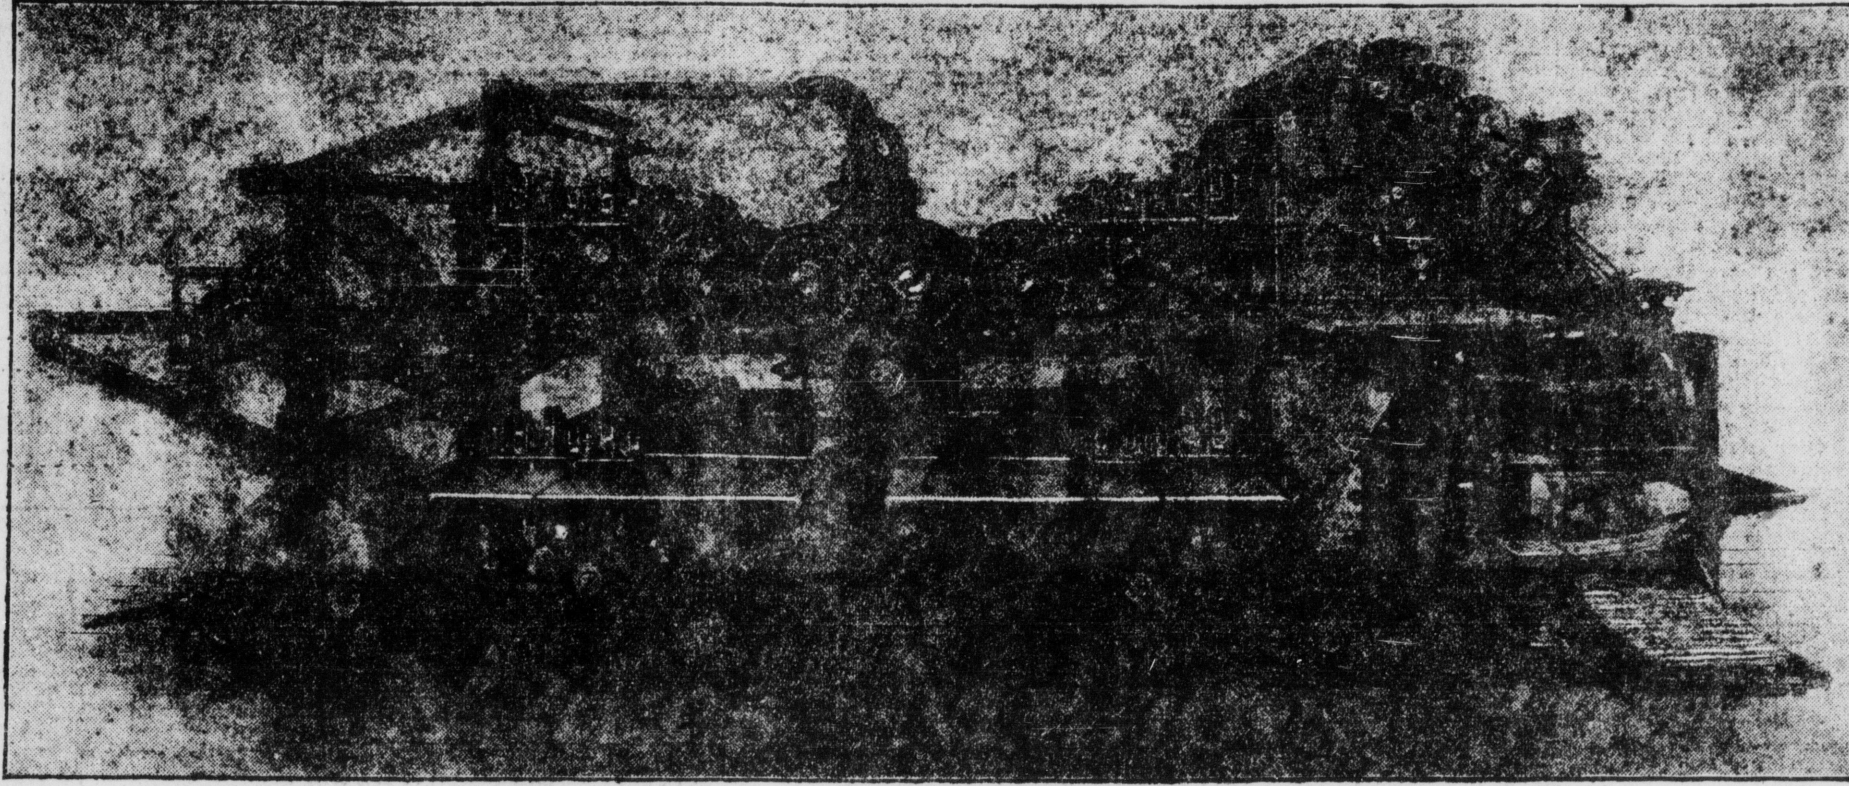

"Three of the biggest wholesale houses in Los Angeles are practically stripped of nails," said C. S. Kendall, of the Santa Ana Hardware Company. "Two houses have no nails on the floor and none on the road, while a third is out of almost all sizes. The sizes in most demand among builders are not to be had. There are no shingle nails. One day this week I visited several of my competitors and they were kind enough to let me have about thirty pounds."

"Nails are scarce as hens' teeth," said D. A. Dale, hardware dealer. "One Los Angeles jobber received a carload Monday afternoon and by Tuesday afternoon every nail was gone. The situation in Southern California is serious. I am told that a number of Los Angeles dealers are sending women and girls throughout the suburbs to collect whatever small quantities of nails they can get. Factories, I understand, are running at about 40 per cent of their capacity. I believe that if they were to begin running today at 100 per cent capacity, it would take at least 90 days before the effect would be felt here. Nails are not the only items that we are short on. Roughings make the best Christmas gifts."

THE above is a photographic reproduction of the Register's new press on which today's Register is printed. It is technically described as a "Two-Roll, Two-Plate-Wide Newspaper Perfecting Press, with Rotary Insetting Folder." It cost us, together with stereotyping machinery, installed, a little over $15,000.00. The freight bill alone was over $1,500.00. Plumbing and electric wiring for operating the press and stereotyping machinery cost over $1,000. Enlargement of the basement of the Register building to provide placement for the new machinery cost $2,000. Other extraordinary expense and miscellaneous items of cost run the total up close to $20,000.00. In other words, the Register has spent $20,000.00 in order to render better service to its readers and advertisers, and to Santa Ana and Orange County as a community.

The new press is a 16-page Hoe. That is, it was manufactured by H. Hoe & Co., of New York, and it prints 16 pages at one operation and in one section, book form if desired. It prints, folds and counts 4-page, 6-page, 8-page, 10-page and 12-page circulation, and publishes more news and advertising than any other paper in the United States. And on the same basis of comparison, it has the largest and best newspaper plant and equipment.

Making a state comparison, only cities of MORE THAN 50,000 POPULATION have larger or better papers than the Register, namely: San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland, Sacramento, San Jose, San Diego, Fresno, Stockton, Pasadena and Long Beach.

It has long been the ambition of the Register to achieve this distinction and supremacy for Santa Ana and Orange County, and the publishers of the paper have spared no effort or expense in working to that end. The paper could have made a great deal more money by pursuing a different and more conservative policy, but it could not have served its constituency as well. It is the further ambition of the publishers to make the Register such a good and complete newspaper and to give such prompt and comprehensive distribution as to meet every newspaper requirement of the residents of Santa Ana, and fill every newspaper need of the residents of other parts of the county over and above the indispensable service rendered by the local papers.

By the installation of its new press the Register will be enabled to make delivery by its own carriers in parts of the county it could not possibly cover heretofore; and by this means it is hoped that the trade territory of Santa Ana may be materially enlarged. For it is a well-established fact that the territory covered by a good newspaper, carrying the volume and quality of advertising that the Register carries, will respond in increased trade for the town in which it is published.

The Register deems it of great importance that Santa Ana should put forth every effort to maintain its supremacy as the commercial as well as the civic and political metropolis of Orange County, and this it can do only by extending and thoroughly cultivating its trade territory. In this respect the Register deeply feels its duty and responsibility, and thoroughly appreciates its opportunity. Without regard to its own immediate advantages or profit, the Register places its facilities and services unreservedly at the command of the business men and the civic organizations of Santa Ana.

Chas. Eygabroad, president of the association, presided at the meeting by request, and explained briefly what the directors have accomplished and what it is proposed to do. Attorney H. C. Head, of Santa Ana, W. M. Belding of Tustin and H. A. Lake of Garden Grove, other members of the board of directors, were in attendance. Head made a brief explanation of the legal situation, present and prospective and after the clearance of several matters that were not clear in the minds of the men in attendance, Woodworth moved that the membership blanks be circulated in Garden Grove at once and as many subscribers secured as possible, within the immediate vicinity, it not being intended at this time to extend the lines very far into the country because of the cost.

Temporary System, $800 Eygabroad and Lake stated that the telephone engineer who is consulting with the directors believed a temporary system could be installed at from $600 to $800, by renting switchboard and instruments. It is believed the $10 initiation fee will pretty near take care of the first cost. The equipment will be more or less inferior, but serviceable.

With the start of work, legal action will probably be brought against the company, to test the legality of the proceedings. If the decision is favorable to the organization, the Garden Grove unit will become a part of the county system. If decision is unfavorable, Garden Grove may then continue with its individual exchange, and put in modern equipment. The investment in the temporary exchange will not be a loss, because the first cost will be principally in the installation of the wires and these can be used in the more modern system. It is believed the temporary service can be rendered at a monthly rental of $1 or $1.50.

The residents of Garden Grove are keen for the system and the sentiment prevailed with those who spoke on the issue that organization should be hastened and the plant installed as quickly as possible. The telephone engineer was expected in Garden Grove today to go over the territory so as to give some idea as to what the cost will be to include those who want the service at once, with the district limited to close-in residents.

Many sections of the state are watching closely the action of Orange county in the proposal to install a county wide mutual system and if it is successful, there is little doubt but that other associations will be organized for the same purpose.

TELLS OF WORK GOD'S SPIRIT, OF MISS LEE IN ENMITY, WILL BOLIVIA NOT JIBE

Returned Missionary Shows Pictures of People of Bolivia

Urging that Bolivia is a country in which there is a crying need for missionary work, Dr. R. J. Burrow, a medical missionary, last night deeply interested an audience that heard him at the Immanuel Baptist Church.

Dr. Burrow was recently returned from eight years' work in the Bolivian Indian Mission in Bolivia. In his lecture last night, he showed many pictures of the people of Bolivia, describing their customs, clothing and habits of life.

There was a great deal of interest among those present in Dr. Burrow's report concerning the missionary work that is being done at the Bolivian Indian Mission by Miss Mildred Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Lee of Garden Grove. Miss Lee is well known in Santa Ana and Garden Grove. Dr. Burrow said that Miss Lee is teaching a class of girls at the mission school and is having excellent success. Pictures of Miss Lee and her class were shown on the screen by Dr. Burrow last night.

Dr. Burrow said that the people of Bolivia in the main are divided into three classes, the Indians, the chozas and the whites.

He said that there is great need for more missionaries in Bolivia. Right now with conditions as they are there, much good can be accomplished and a foundation laid for future work for the betterment of the people.

Dr. Burrow will preach at the Immanuel Baptist church here Monday morning.

DEVIL IS AS ACCEPTABLE IN HEAVEN AS MAN WITH ENMITY IN HEART

Declaring that God would take the devil into heaven just as quick as He would two professed Christians who hate each other in their heart, Dave Hill, lumber-jack evangelist, who is conducting a series of revival meetings at Zion's Evangelical church at the corner of Main and Tenth streets, last night delivered himself of some very pertinent remarks about people who profess Christianity yet hold enmity in their hearts for some individual. "It can't be did"—enmity in the heart and God's spirit won't co-operate—about sums up his conclusions.

"Popular Amusement with the Lid Off," will be the subject of his sermon at 7:30 tonight.

Some of the chips, as they fell from the lumberman's axe last night, follow:

"If the religion of Jesus Christ is anything at all, it is the very best of good sense.

"A preacher once said, 'Come over and help us in a revival service. We are having trouble with our chickens.' Upon investigation it was found the trouble was not with the chickens, but with the old hens and roosters.

"Nowadays people do not want a Saviour because they do not know they are lost.

"Let Jesus Christ get into your heart, and He will spoil you for anything the devil has in his truck patch.

"You cannot keep one foot in the devil's truck patch, and eat red-top clover in God's pasture field at the same time."

Spring and Fall Clothing Due for Big Price Jump, According to Vandermast

WITH manufacturers unable to supply the demand of retailers, workmen demanding shorter hours and higher pay, clothing costs for the next spring and summer will take another leap up, according to Walter N. Vandermast, who has just returned from an extensive buying trip to eastern markets for the Vandermast stores in Santa Ana, Orange and Fullerton. His business took him to Chicago, Cleveland, Rochester, New York and Philadelphia, and in all these manufacturing centers he found conditions about the same—manufacturers unable to meet one-half the demand of retailers.

"The day of the 85 cent overall, the $1 union suit and the pure worsted, well tailored suit for $25 never will 'come back' declared Vandermast today. "Unless a disastrous business panic should occur and should this happen, our heads, our oranges—all our products would sell at such ruinous figures that our people would not then be as well able to buy as they are today at the higher prices.

"Santa Anans have a good deal to be thankful for that they are living in a small town where expenses are at a minimum. If a store on Broadway, New York sold goods at the prices Santa Ana merchants charge, their stock would be sold out completely in a few days. Everything is high in the east. It costs so much more to do business, and the cost of living is so much higher, that the merchant is forced to ask more. The ordinary citizen of Orange county lives like a prince as compared with his brother in any of the large centers of the east.

"Regarding market conditions? Let me illustrate it in this way. You remember when our oranges went to $15 per box? Was it manipulation of the market? No! It simply was a case of more demand than there was supply. The market in wearing apparel lines is the same, but with more justification for the high prices.

Dealer Begs for Overcoats "I was in Rochester from the 2nd to the 6th of November, and I saw retailers from outside districts actually begging from place to place for overcoats for immediate delivery. In one factory I met a merchant from a town in Minnesota who was trying to get overcoats for immediate delivery. A couple of days later I met him in a hotel. He had just received a wire that it was cold and snowing in his home town and that his firm must have overcoats. That man went to a retailer, received a discount of 10 per cent from the regular selling price and sent forty overcoats by express. It wasn't a question of price—he had to have the goods to supply his trade and sent forty overcoats by express, himself, if he made any profit at all.

"There is no reserve stock anywhere—east or west. I believe the average merchant will receive not over 50 per cent of the fall goods he has ordered. For the spring and summer goods of 1920, manufacturers are simply allotting their goods, giving their patrons a percentage based on their orders for last spring and summer.

$10 Advance in Suits "I estimate the wholesale price to the merchants on this coming spring supply at an average advance to the merchant between $5 and $10 per suit over what the suits sold today by retailers cost them wholesale.

"While I was in the east, manufacturing clothes were placing orders for piece goods where they could get a mill to accept them, at still higher prices for the 1920-1921 fall and winter goods.

"In 1913, No. 240 worsted worsted yarn, which is a good domestic wool, sold at 90 to 35 cents a pound. Today it is being sold at $4 to $4.25 per pound. Labor costs have increased tremendously, from the sheep raiser to the top maker (who sorts the wool into tops), the yarn spinner and the piece goods maker.

"At the government auction of Australian wool held Nov. 11, the highest prices ever received were paid. This wool will go into piece goods for the 1920-21 fall and winter trade.

"In 1915, fine worsted fabrics cost around $4 per yard. Today's prices are between $9.50 and $10 per yard. Figuring 3 1/2 yards to a suit, means an increased cost in the cloth alone of $19.41. The suit wholesaler then at $22.50. The wholesaler for 1920-21 is $62 to $65. This makes ap-

WALNUTS ARE SENT EAST THROUGH AIR

A package containing Santa Ana walnuts was delivered last week to Mr. and Mrs. John Shuel of Princeton, Ind. after the package had made most of the journey eastward by airplane.

The walnuts were sent by Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Peck of the Mission Apartments, Santa Ana. Peck, a son of Rev. H. W. Peck, former pastor of the First Methodist Church here, and Shuel and their wives, both of whom were war brides, became acquainted while the two men were in the service stationed at Camp Shelby, Miss.

The arrival of the walnuts at Princeton, Ind., brought about a report in the newspaper of that city in which it was declared that the package was the first to arrive there bearing the new aerial postage stamp.

SOLICITORS AT WORK TODAY IN GETTING NEW MEMBERS

Installation of Temporary Plant Will Be Rushed Vigorously

With J. M. Woodworth, cashier of the Garden Grove bank, taking the initiative by a motion that membership blanks be circulated at once, a number of men in the Garden Grove district today are engaged in securing members to the Orange County Farmers and Merchants Association for the purpose of installing a unit of the county mutual telephone system, following a meeting of Garden Grove residents at Y. M. C. A. hall last night. Enthusiasm over the prospect of a unit was high and forty men last night signed the membership applications and deposited $10 each with Secretary Stanley of the Garden Grove Farm Center. The unit is expected to start operation with about 100 subscribers.

Chas. Eygabroad, president of the association, presided at the meeting by request, and explained briefly what the directors have accomplished and what it is proposed to do. Attorney H. C. Head, of Santa Ana, W. M. Belding of Tustin and H. A. Lake of Garden Grove, other members of the board of directors, were in attendance. Head made a brief explanation of the legal situation, present and prospective and after the clearance of several matters that were not clear in the minds of the men in attendance, Woodworth moved that the membership blanks be circulated in Garden Grove at once and as many subscribers secured as possible, within the immediate vicinity, it not being intended at this time to extend the lines very far into the country because of the cost.

Temporary System, $800 Eygabroad and Lake stated that the telephone engineer who is consulting with the directors believed a temporary system could be installed at from $600 to $800, by renting switchboard and instruments. It is believed the $10 initiation fee will pretty near take care of the first cost. The equipment will be more or less inferior, but serviceable.

With the start of work, legal action will probably be brought against the company, to test the legality of the proceedings. If the decision is favorable to the organization, the Garden Grove unit will become a part of the county system. If decision is unfavorable, Garden Grove may then continue with its individual exchange, and put in modern equipment. The investment in the temporary exchange will not be a loss, because the first cost will be principally in the installation of the wires and these can be used in the more modern system. It is believed the temporary service can be rendered at a monthly rental of $1 or $1.50.

The residents of Garden Grove are keen for the system and the sentiment prevailed with those who spoke on the issue that organization should be hastened and the plant installed as quickly as possible. The telephone engineer was expected in Garden Grove today to go over the territory so as to give some idea as to what the cost will be to include those who want the service at once, with the district limited to close-in residents.

Many sections of the state are watching closely the action of Orange county in the proposal to install a county wide mutual system and if it is successful, there is little doubt but that other associations will be organized for the same purpose.

FALL CLOTHING COAL SHORTAGE DUE FOR JUMP IN PRICE

Shortage of Raw Material and Higher Wages to Cause Increase

proximately a difference of $40 per suit. The cloth, however, is only one of the items that enters into a completed suit, and every cost that enters into its manufacture has been increased tremendously. The labor cost, of course, is the big item in a suit.

Workers Have Shorter Hours
The mill workers used to work 58 hours a week, now they work 44 hours. All the family worked then. Now, in a great many cases, the man alone works, as he can make enough individually to supply the needs of the family. It happens too often that he quits for the week on Thursday night, as under the higher wages he earns all he wants to in the shorter period of the week. And the majority of these workers only want enough to live—they have no ambition to accumulate a competency.

"Expert pocket makers are earning $103 per week on piece work sleeve fitters $75 and $80 and by working overtime at time and half pay, can make much more. These workers are now demanding a wage increase of 30 per cent.

"The worsted yarns which go into underwear have advanced 400 per cent since pre-war times. The wage scale in underwear making has doubled, and another advance was promised by the underwear manufacturer's association at its meeting in Utica in the middle of November. Underwear workers have not received as large wage advances as have the clothing workers. This will be reflected in next year's wholesale prices. The finished product has advanced about 150 per cent, and it is hard to get the mill to take an order at present prices.

Cotton Prices Jump
"As regards cotton goods? No. 10 cotton yarn, which is what we call a low-end yarn, sold before the war at 18 cents a pound. It went into a 16 pound union suit that sold around $8 per dozen. The same yarn sold Nov. 14 at 78 cents per pound, and there is not enough to supply the demand. This is because of a strike in the Mohawk valley which has lasted three months. The present price of that union suit is approximately $19.50 doz. no orders for 1920 even at this price. The fact is that underwear is the cheapest article on the market today.

Pre-war prices were possible because workmen put in as much as 60 hours a week at very low pay. "Fall prices on 1920-21 underwear will be from 15 to 35 per cent higher wholesale. Girls who sew the braid on children's straw hats used to get $18 to $25 per week, recently struck for $90 and compromised on $50 to $54, with most of them still on a strike. Cap workers in New York now get $45 for a 44 hour week. They demand day wages and no longer will operate on piece work schedules.

Fur is Very Scarce
"Fur is the base of hats, and nearly everything entering into the manufacture of men's hats formerly came from foreign countries—Austria, Russia, the north of France, Hill lands of Germany, Belgium, Scotland, Tasmania, New Zealand and Australia. Carolina gives us the only local fur for hat making. South America gives us some nutria fur. Today our fur stock from foreign countries comes only from Tasmania, New Zealand and Australia, with some from North Scotland, but the manufacturers of women's furs outbid the makers of men's hats for the Scotland product. Women will pay big prices for this fur and the manufacturers in these lines can pay a higher price. Women are buying tremendous amounts of furs. The supply is short and the manufacturers simply cannot meet the prices that manufacturers of women's wear willingly pay.

"The pre-war prices that went into a man's $4 hat cost around $2.25 a pound and today there is a scarcity at $11.50 to $13 per pound. Hat bands are another item. A 22 line hat band that formerly cost $3 per dozen for trimming, now cost $8, and the manufacturers are unwilling to quote prices for future delivery. They are taking orders on open prices only. The bands come mostly from Patterson, N. J., the home of discent. Leather bands which go on the inside of a hat show a large increase in cost. Labor for making them costs 115 per cent more and shellac has gone from 17 1/2 cents per pound to $1.30. In the manufacture of a stiff hat, it passes through thirty-six different hands, while thirty-two different people have something to do with the making of a soft hat. This is exclusive of the inspectors, packers, etc. It takes three pounds of fur to a dozen hats.

Silk Hose Going Up
"Thrown silk, which is raw silk in condition to be knit, sold at $3 to $4 before the war. Last March the manufacturers paid $6.75 per pound for silk in hose that are retailing today at $1. Today's spot price to the manufacturers is $16 to $18 per pound, with a big demand and the supply short. This means a spring price of around $1.50 for hose that sell at $1 today.

"A certain mill sold ladies' silk hose at $12 per dozen for this fall delivery, and its price for spring goods is $22.50 per dozen. "The situation is pretty well summed up in a letter which we have just received from Daube, Rosenthal & Co., of Chicago, in which the firm advises that we were compelled to reduce quantities on all orders, owing to the fact that the mills did not give us all the goods that were purchased by us. In the majority of cases the quantities were reduced by the mills. In some instances the revisions were very radical.

Kentucky Blue-grass Lands Are Bought to Raise Tobacco

Residents of Southern California are to be more thankful than ever this winter that they live in a climate that is not featured by a blizzard and snow.

So says Rev. A. T. O'Rear, pastor of the South Methodist church, who arrived home yesterday from a trip of a month that took him to his old home at Marion, Ind., and to Cincinnati, Ky., where he was a pastor.

"The coal situation is acute in the east," said he, "and there is bound to be a lot of suffering there this year by reason of it. Coal conservation has been enforced in lots of places. In Marion, Ind., a city of 35,000, all street lights have been shut off except those around the public square. That is coal saved. Chicago and Cincinnati have cut down their street lighting as much as they dare. In Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kan., schools have been closed and churches have but one service a week. That is all to save coal. What has been done in Kansas City may have to be done everywhere in the east, and other drastic measures to save coal are needed. In Kansas City, also stores and public buildings limit the hours from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

"Around Cincinnati, Ky., things were booming as they never had boomed before. That has been a stock country. Most of the land has not been plowed since before the war, if then. When I left there four years ago land was worth from $150 to $175 an acre. Now it is selling at from $500 to $675 an acre. A big farm sold for $666.66 an acre a few days before I arrived there. The reason for the big change is that the pasture land is being taken up for tobacco. Tobacco is worth seventy and eighty cents a pound now, and they expect it to go to $1 a pound this winter. This virgin land will raise big crops of tobacco.

"Coming home, we ran into snow near Kansas City and rode through snow every bit of the way until yesterday in Nevada. We came on the Missouri Pacific, the Denver and Rio Grande and the Salt Lake roads."

Rev. O'Rear was accompanied here by Mrs. A. E. Parsons of Marion, Ind., mother of Mrs. O'Rear.

PYTHIANS GIVE RING TO HENRY G. MILLER

A pleasant feature of the preliminary program of the production of "Damon and Pythias" last night at Tustin was the presentation of a beautiful emblematic ring to Henry G. Miller by the Tustin lodge, Knights of Pythias, as a demonstration of the esteem in which he is held as a knightly brether. Grand Chancellor Guerin made the presentation speech. While it was a complete surprise to Mr. Miller, he responded in a happy manner. Mr. Miller is connected with the Southern Counties Gas Company, of Santa Ana.

to say that we are in receipt of a communication today from the mill that is owing us seventy five pieces of heavy weight goods; they write that they will only be able to manufacture fourteen pieces for us, out of the seventy five that are owing to us; that they are not able to manufacture the number of pieces they figured on, owing to the shorter hours that their men are working, and that labor troubles interfere most seriously with their mills. "These seventy-five pieces of goods they are owing us have been sold to our customers, but we are going to receive only fourteen pieces and consequently all customers who bought this style will only receive about one fifth the number of suits that they originally purchased. "This is the situation in a great many cases, consequently we cannot give you any substitutes from your original fall order."

COULD SHOUT FOR JOY, SAYS MRS. KATE TROUT

Los Angeles Woman Gains Twenty Pounds After Taking Tanlac

"It's hard for me to believe that I have actually gained twenty pound and all my seven years of suffering has entirely disappeared," said Mrs. Kate Trout, living at 1456 Naud St., Los Angeles, Cal., the other day. "For several long years I suffered from an awful case of indigestion that pulled me down and made me so weak that I could barely drag myself around," continued Mrs. Trout. "For the past year my condition has been worse, and after nearly every meal I would have aching pains all over my body, and I was so nervous that I couldn't sit down and read for ten minutes at a time. I was badly constipated and my blood circulation was so poor that my feet, knees and hands would be cold nearly all the time. Night after night I walked the floor till three and four o'clock in the morning unable to sleep a wink, and I went down hill so fast that I actually lost thirty-seven pounds in weight.

"I tried treatment after treatment but I kept getting worse all the time until I read about Tanlac and commenced taking it. I am actually astonished at the wonderful change that has come over me and I'm so happy I just feel like shouting for joy. My stomach is in perfect condition and I can eat just anything I please and never have any indigestion or pains at all, and my nerves, too, are in fine condition. My circulation is good, now, and I am no longer constipated and when I come it is a pleasure for me to go to bed because I can get a full night's sleep and rest and get up feeling just fine. I have already gained back twenty pounds of my lost weight and have not felt so well in seven long years. I am a happy woman and every word I've said is the truth, and I just think so much of Tanlac that I'm going to tell everybody what a fine medicine it is."

Tanlac is sold in Santa Ana by Rowley Drug Co., in Fullerton by G. W. Finch, in La Habra by R. H. Hilbert, in Huntington Beach by Rigdon's Pharmacy, in Orange by Dittmer's Mission Pharmacy, in Placentia by A. J. Robinson, in Tustin by Tustin Drug Co., in Brea by Brea Pharmacy, in Buena Park by Regal Drug Co., in Garden Grove by O. H. Anderson, in Laguna Beach by Laguna Beach Pharmacy and in Seal Beach by Wm. Marks Election

Elected at a meeting held in the council chambers of the city hall, the following service men today hold office in Santa Ana Post, American Legion:

Dr. John Wehrly, president; Attorney Charles D. Swanner, first vice president; F. M. Dean, second vice president; Clyde Whitney, secretary and W. Lester Tubbs, treasurer.

Dr. Wehrly formerly was president of Santa Ana chapter, Service Mens' Association of Orange county. F. M. Dean was formerly secretary of the old organization.

Appointed on the executive committee were Attorney Stanley M. Reinhaus, chairman; Attorney M. B. Wellington, Martin Biggs, Dr. H. M. Brothers and George Platt.

More than one hundred service men were present at the meeting at the city hall, and the election of officers and the outlining of future plans were marked by enthusiasm.

W. Lester Tubbs and Martin Biggs were appointed a committee to work on the matter of securing additional funds with which to purchase furniture for the chapter's rooms in the First National Bank building, use of which was donated by the bank.

Herman Reuter was appointed as chairman of the publicity committee. He will be assisted by Chas. Wheatley.

Representatives from Oceanside were present and proposed to put on an entertainment for the local post. This proposition was voted down, however, it being held inadvisable to stage another "show" at the present time.

We heard someone say—"kinda snappy last night;" then somebody else said—"and damp, too," and then a third somebody asked—"why don't you wear an overcoat or something?" We said—"That's good logic."

You fellows would have been neither cold nor wet, if you hadn't kept putting off the idea of buying an overcoat or raincoat or even a mackinaw. We have plenty of 'em. Overcoats that are good and warm and stylish, too. Belters, single breasted and double breasted, form fitted or full cut. Yes—and those of you that say—"well I wouldn't wear a style like that" we can take care of you, too; for we have overcoats that are made a little plainer just for you men that don't want the frills, but like something more conservative.

Our raincoats keep the wind and wet on the outside—rubberized or cravenetted coats. We have 'em all.

ADVENTISTS PLAN
WEEK OF PRAYER

Seventh-day Adventists throughout the world will hold their annual week of prayer December 6 to 13.
Meetings will be held in all the Seventh-day Adventist churches every evening, when special readings, ap-given. Time also will be spent in reviewing the Christian experience of the past year. The week of prayer is a season for checking up accounts, as it were, making all wrongs right, and preparing to start the new year with a clean slate.

The subjects of the readings for the week are as follows: Saturday, December 6, "The Present World Situation;" Sunday, "The Message;"
Monday, "The Messengers;" Tuesday, "Efficiency of the Messengers;"
Wednesday, "Motive Power of the Message;" Thursday, "Conditions of Receiving the Holy Spirit;" Friday, "Encouraging Words from the Field;" Saturday, "Need of Efficient
Workers in the Cause of God."

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 5.—
The city board at a regular meeting Monday evening, decided to call an election to vote on the proposition of issuing bonds for $150,000 for the purpose of buying several hundred

This question had been hanging fire and was finally left up to the city council for action. There seems to be a strong sentiment opposing this new move and it is a doubtful ques-

MIND POISONING WARNING GIVEN BY JUDGE

'Other Man' on Stand During Hearing on Dahnke Cause Order Rebuked

Warning that he would cite for contempt anyone who attempted to poison the mind of the 7-year-old daughter of Henry and Selma Dahnke against the mother was given by Judge West in Department 1, Superior court after he had issued orders which were in effect today, awarding the custody of the little girl temporarily to Dahnke and allowing Mrs. Dahnke $200 for attorney's fees with which to prosecute her action for divorce.

The little girl, according to the court's order, will remain in Dahnke's custody pending the determination of the divorce action, though Mrs. Dahnke will be permitted to visit the child on alternate Sundays.

The order issued by Judge West came at the end of a hearing to show cause, yesterday afternoon. Henry Weichman, rancher in the Santa Ana canyon, took the stand during the hearing and on being questioned admitted he called on Mrs. Dahnke several times each week.

Rebukes "Other Man"

In reviewing the testimony, and prior to issuing the order to Dahnke relative to attorney's fees and the custody of the child, the court scathingly rebuked the alleged "other man" in the case, stating, "He is full of just such men as the 'other man' appeared to be."

Koepsel & Eden are attorneys for Dahnke and C. D. Swanner is attorney for Mrs. Dahnke.

AMERICAN LEGION HITS THE SLACKER

Eliminating the "work slacker" is the new job which the American Legion has taken upon itself, acting in conjunction with the War Department's chain of employment bureaus throughout the country. This type of ex-service man, while not numerous, is occasionally a serious detriment to the work of placing ex-soldiers and sailors in satisfactory jobs. Their attitude of shiftness after getting the place causes dissatisfaction among employers who are really trying to help, and gives a black eye to other service men who still need work.

Practically all the posts of the Legion now have employment committees. In some cases these committees have taken over all the task of finding jobs for their fellow service men. In other localities they co-operate with the War Department in Bridgeport, Conn., where the work slacker has been a serious evil. The Legion keeps a special file of such cases of repeating in jobs. As a rule a heart-to-heart talk from a comrade in arms has been enough. In other cases a refractory man has been denied the services of the employment office altogether.

In Detroit the Legion works also with the police. Where an ex-soldier in uniform is taken up for some minor offense, like begging or peddling, a probationary system has been adopted. Instead of sending these men to jail, the authorities have consented to put them on probation with the American Legion. This practice has had a very salutary effect, and Detroit's problem of putting to work every returned fighting man is no longer so serious.

In practically all states, the employment committee of the Legion now makes a canvass of all employers. Wherever jobs are offered returned soldiers, the employers are told that the Legion expects to keep in touch with the men in places, in order to see that they give satisfactory service. If one is not forthcoming, the Legion gives such men short notice on the other hand, the deserving ex-service man who needs employment will have his case persisted in until he is placed. Work slackers have to appear before a committee of their comrades.

RECORDS OF DEAD EX-MARINES ARE BOUGHT

Lieutenant Colonel D. P. Hall, officer in charge of the U. S. Marine Corps, western recruiting division, has been requested by the Marine headquarters at Washington, D. C., to obtain if possible, the names of all the men who have served in the U. S. Marine Corps, and who have died after their discharge from the service and are buried in the civil cemeteries of California and Nevada. An attempt was made to secure those records from the cemetery supervisors and officials of the city health department, but the records of those institutions show only that occupation which was held by the departed at the time of his death.

It is respectfully requested of all those whose departed relatives and friends have been serving in the U. S. Marine Corps to submit their names and the places where buried, if possible, to Lieut. Colonel D. P. Hall, No. 1 Drumm street, San Francisco, Cal.

REQUIREMENTS FOR BAR EXAMS RIGID

More rigid requirements than heretofore as to professional fitness must be met by applicants for the right to take the new bar examination to be held under the new state law in Los Angeles on January 12, it was stated today by Attorney J. C. Burke, secretary of the Orange County Bar Association.

The applicant must present proof of adequate preparation before a board of bar examiners, provided for in the law, will agree to pass upon his qualifications, Burke said.

Satisfactory testimonials as to good character must be presented by the applicant, said Burke, and he must secure a certificate signed by two attorneys of four years' practice who have passed an examination given by them as to his ability to pass a bar examination. He must name the books he has read and must show whose tutelage he has studied.

Given to the applicant to study is a list of 19 books with the citations and decisions on 11 civil and criminal actions which have gone through the courts.

There can be preferred against the applicant no charges of unprofessional conduct, nor can disbarment proceedings have been brought against him, nor can he have been accused of felony or minor charges involving his morality.

Ten dollars of an examination fee, $25 goes to the court of the applicant's district and the remainder to the fund for the support of the examination board. All applications must be in 10 days before the first examination, January 12, 1920.

KOEPSSEL GETS LIGHT ON MINERS STRIKE

L. H. Koepsel, who has just returned from an extended sojourn in San Francisco, says he got some new light on the coal miners' strike while attending a hearing before the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.

"The San Francisco Board of Supervisors, as you probably know," said Mr. Koepsel, "raised a great hubbalooboo by endorsing the miners' strike. I attended a hearing on this question at which a report was made by a man—I forget his name—who had been east officially investigating the causes and conditions of the strike. He said that the mine operators were as much to blame for curtailing the production of coal as the striking miners. One of the causes of the miners' strike was that some operators were limiting the miners to three eight-hour days' work per week, and the miners wanted five six-hour days' work per week—an increase of six hours work per week. When asked what object the operators had in limiting the work-time of the miners, he said it was done to curtail production and increase prices."

Mr. Koepsel said the impression he got from this man's report was that while the wage demands of the miners were pretty stiff and their proposed working hours pretty short, it was an injustice to them for press reports to create the impression that they were limiting the miners to three hours-a-week working basis, when in fact they were at least in some instances, asking for an increase of six hours a week in working time.

Sale of Christmas Seals Done Enthusiastically by Children of Schools

THAT Orange County, through its schools, will sell many thousands more Red Cross Christmas seals than have ever before been sold in a campaign here, is shown by returns that have so far been received by Miss Hazel Bemus, the county chairman for the drive.

"Anaheim has sent in for 10,000 additional seals," said Miss Bemus, "and Fullerton has sold 20,000 and has asked for 2,500 more."

School children of Santa Ana have set out to sell 60,000 seals at one cent per seal, and Miss Bemus has no doubt but what every school will sell its entire allotment. Reports so far received at Intermediate school show 60,000 seals sold by that school.

The seals are bright in color and attractive in design, and are just the thing for use in placing on Christmas packages and Christmas letters.

Half of the proceeds of the sales will go to the work of the Anti-Tuberculosis Association of California and the other half will remain in the control of the local schools for local work of a charitable nature.

Through the Christmas seal sales a nation-wide campaign for the prevention and control of tuberculosis is to be financed. The plan is to sell during the period, Dec. 1 to Dec. 10, set apart for the drive 650,000,000 seals in the United States.

According to T. C. Cuvelier, campaign director for Southern California, who today visited the Pasadena Chapter of the American Red Cross in the interests of the campaign, the fight against tuberculosis during the coming year will be among the children who are under nourished and half fed.

"Those fighting tuberculosis," said Cuvelier, "feel grieved that their efforts have decreased the yearly death from 200,000 10 years ago to 150,000 at present. The Red Cross seal campaign gives everyone an opportunity to aid in combating this disease. Southern California is taking a great interest in the campaign and it is gratifying to see how the school children in many cities are anxious to aid in the sale of the seals."

"School children all over the city have these seals for sale," said Miss Bemus. "There will be a good many who will want to buy these seals who have no children in the schools. All they need to do is to apply to a neighbor's child or to stop almost any passing child. The children are all very enthusiastic in the work. The effort has been to impress them with the idea of service, that in the glad Christmas time they are to think of people less fortunate than they."

TEXAN CHARGES S. A. MAN WITH BATTERY

In a complaint which was on file in justice court today, C. N. Grace, local real estate dealer, accused Steve Elzea of battery. Yesterday forenoon Elzea came into justice court and asked Justice John B. Cox whether or not a complaint had been sworn to by Grace. Cox informed Elzea that the complaint had not been issued. Cox questioned Elzea, who told him that trouble arose between him and Grace and when the latter denied Elzea's claim that Grace had told him some lineoleum and a rug were to be included in a deal through which Elzea was to come into possession of a house.

Elzea said to Cox that he had told Grace that the latter's statement with reference to the lineoleum and rug had been overheard by Elzea's wife. Thereupon, according to what Elzea told Cox, Grace made a remark alleged to have been derogatory to Elzea's veracity. Then Elzea hit Grace, the former told Cox.

Later in the day Grace came into justice court for the purpose of swearing to the complaint against Elzea. One of Grace's eyes was swathed in a bandage. Cox questioned Grace, and Cox says that he admitted he had made the remark. "Well," said Justice Cox, "I've seen men get shot for less than that where I come from."

Grace informed Cox that Elzea hailed from Texas. "It is always a good plan to find out what state a man comes from, before calling him a liar," said Cox, endorsing Grace's complaint.

Following a two months' painting trip to various points in the Mojave desert, Conway Griffith, well known water colorist, was in Santa Ana today en route to his home at Laguna Beach. Griffith spent four weeks with an old friend, Hugh Woods near Victorville, and later spent several weeks with another friend, Dr. W. C. Terry, father of "Zeke" Terry, well known baseball player at Coachella. Griffith brought back with him a number of splendid paintings and sketches of desert scenes. He is especially pleased with a large picture he painted with the Mojave river as the subject. While at Coachella Griffith witnessed a severe sandstorm. He experienced cold weather during the greater part of his stay on the desert. Among other points visited by him were Barstow and Palmdale.

"That's nothing," said the hotel clerk, "I had an umbrella with a gold handle once, and it was hooked in the end, too."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

The Undertaker's Cue
"Excuse me, sir," said Bilson, a little timidly, "but you appear to be following me. Is there anything you want?"
"Well, I'm just trying to find where you live, and introduce myself, like, I'm McPherson, the undertaker," said the burly stranger.
"Oh—er—quite so! I'm pleased to meet you, I'm sure! But there's nobody dead at my place."
"Nae, nae," said the undertaker, smiling sweetly. "But I just heard you cough, and I have hopes."—Blighy, London.

Kings have their court musicians and their gala nights at the opera. The peasants have their crude instruments and their folk dances.
